

Foreword

"Forward!" was the cry of the pioneer, and "Ever Forward" is the slogan of the students of Fargo High School. The staff of this Cynosure Annual has attempted to unfold in the following pages the complete panorama of school life, as the students travel along on the road of education.

Dedication

To those who suffered hardships to develop our great state; to the men and women who helped to promote not only transportation, but life on the prairies as well; to these staunch, hardy ancestors of ours we pay tribute.

PHOTOGRAPH COURTESY NORTHWEST AIRWAYS

To those who survived through the days of the covered wagon, stage coach and river boat, that we, their descendants, might enjoy the modern train and swift airplane—as well as other comforts of modern life—we dedicate this 1937 edition of the Cynosure Annual.

THE TEACHER

The teacher is a prophet—
He builds for future time.
The teacher is an artist—
He molds the personality.
The teacher is a builder,
Who works in every clime.
The teacher is a friend—
To whom we owe fidelity.

The teacher is a citizen
Improving all society.
The teacher is a pioneer—
Who tries, at last succeeds.
The teacher's a believer
In mirth and in sobriety—
Yet ever standing forth
To help us in our needs.

JANUARY CLASS HISTORY

CLASS OFFICERS

President	Junior Fish
Vice-President	Maxine Runice
Secretary-Treasurer	Marguerite Olson
Adviser	. Miss Ina Johnson

In January, 1934, the Chief Pilot B. C. B. Tighe thoughtfully surveyed the bewildered new passengers of his car. They represented former travelers on S. S. Roosevelt and S. S. Agassiz. As he looked, he was skeptical. Would they become car sick while traveling toward the goal in their quest for knowledge? Remaining hopeful, however, he gave the signals to start.

Assistant pilots Miss Akre and Betty Taylor aided in covering many difficult roads. All through the first lap of the three-year journey the travelers were improving. Many participated in intramural debate, journalism, musical organizations, boys' and girls' athletics, and the physical education demonstration.

On the second lap of the journey, the assistant pilots, Miss Rowlands, Mr. Bridgeford, and Ed Morgan, realized that there was outstanding talent in the band of travelers, who were now well united in their aims and hopes. More and more of them were stopping to visit in various fields of extracurricular activities.

At the end of this year the group played host to the travelers who were leaving, as they had reached their destination. Carrying out the theme of a winter carnival, the dining car was decorated for the banquet, while the observation car was the scene of the dance.

The last year of the journey was by far the busiest. The travelers were not only occupied with outside activities, but also kept busy with the various committees for rings, announcements, and class day exercises and other things incident to commencement.

Before disbanding, the happy group of travelers, excited by the rapidly approaching end of their journey, presented "The Thirteenth Chair", directed by Mr. P. B. Fredericks. After being honored at a banquet and dance by those who had not yet completed their journey, the group reached their destination.

Then the members of the Class of 1937 realized how very much they owed to their Chief Pilot, their assistant pilots and the conductors, known as teachers, who had helped to make their journey an enjoyable and eventful one.

Here the members of the group who had been companions for three years took leave of one another, and disembarked from the train, leaving the Chief Pilot behind. Each proceeded then to start the pursuit of his own quest for knowledge.

Treasurer	Charles Putney
Adviser

As sophomores we came in the father of gas automobiles to our first year in high school, and we were proud to have made such progress from the horse and buggy days of junior high. During this year we accelerated our car as much as possible, but with little results. "Only sophomores!" we were told. We tried, nevertheless, to prove our loyalty to our school. We organized our class and worked to increase our prestige. Miss Eikenes, as adviser, and Ernest Anderson, as president, aided us unfalteringly through the extremely difficult days of '35.

Industry in school brought us forth in modern vehicles upon the highway of our second year in Fargo High. Numerous stops were made on the way Doors of the Sportsmanship and athletic clubs, literary and dramatic societies were opened to us and we tried to make the most of the opportunities. Our prowess as musicians, athletes, debaters, actors, and public speakers was displayed. The privilege of preparing the 1936 Cynosure Annual was granted us. Our entrance into official contests of skill we joyfully regarded as a stepping stone to success scholastically, and the banquet for the seniors was our great achievement socially. And ever leading us on were our advisers, Miss Beyer and Mr. Lower, and our president, Don Brown.

As seniors we whizzed through our third and last year in the new stream-lined trains. Our progress was made possible by the foundations we had laid in our sophomore and junior years. Our group of travelers was led by Miss Nelson and Osborne Fredrickson. Up, up the long hill we worked, ever striving. Almost at the top we had to stop to rest. Our class play, banquet, and dance were the diversions during this period. At last our goal was reached. We sat upon the pinnacle of our success in high school and looked with wonder upon the days we had left behind. Hurriedly we boarded our plane for our next trip—into life.

With a last look and a sigh of regret, we bid goodbye to Fargo High School with all its memories, and thank with most sincere hearts our pilots and co-pilots who through their untiring efforts have guided us during these days of progress.

CLASSES

You have seen all the classes
In finest array;
We know you've enjoyed them—
That's needless to say.

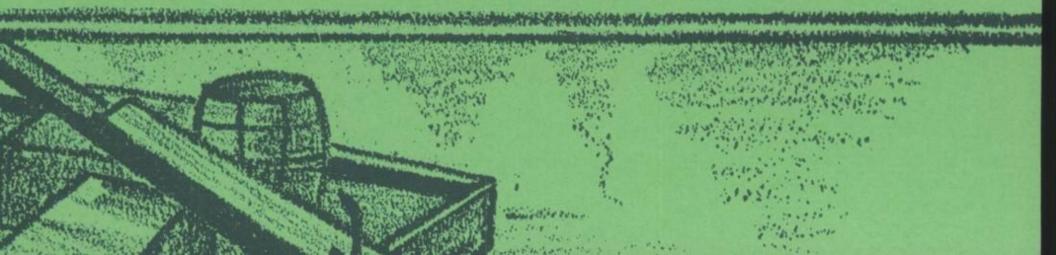

At some later date When you're older and wise, Take a peek at the classes— Again feast your eyes.

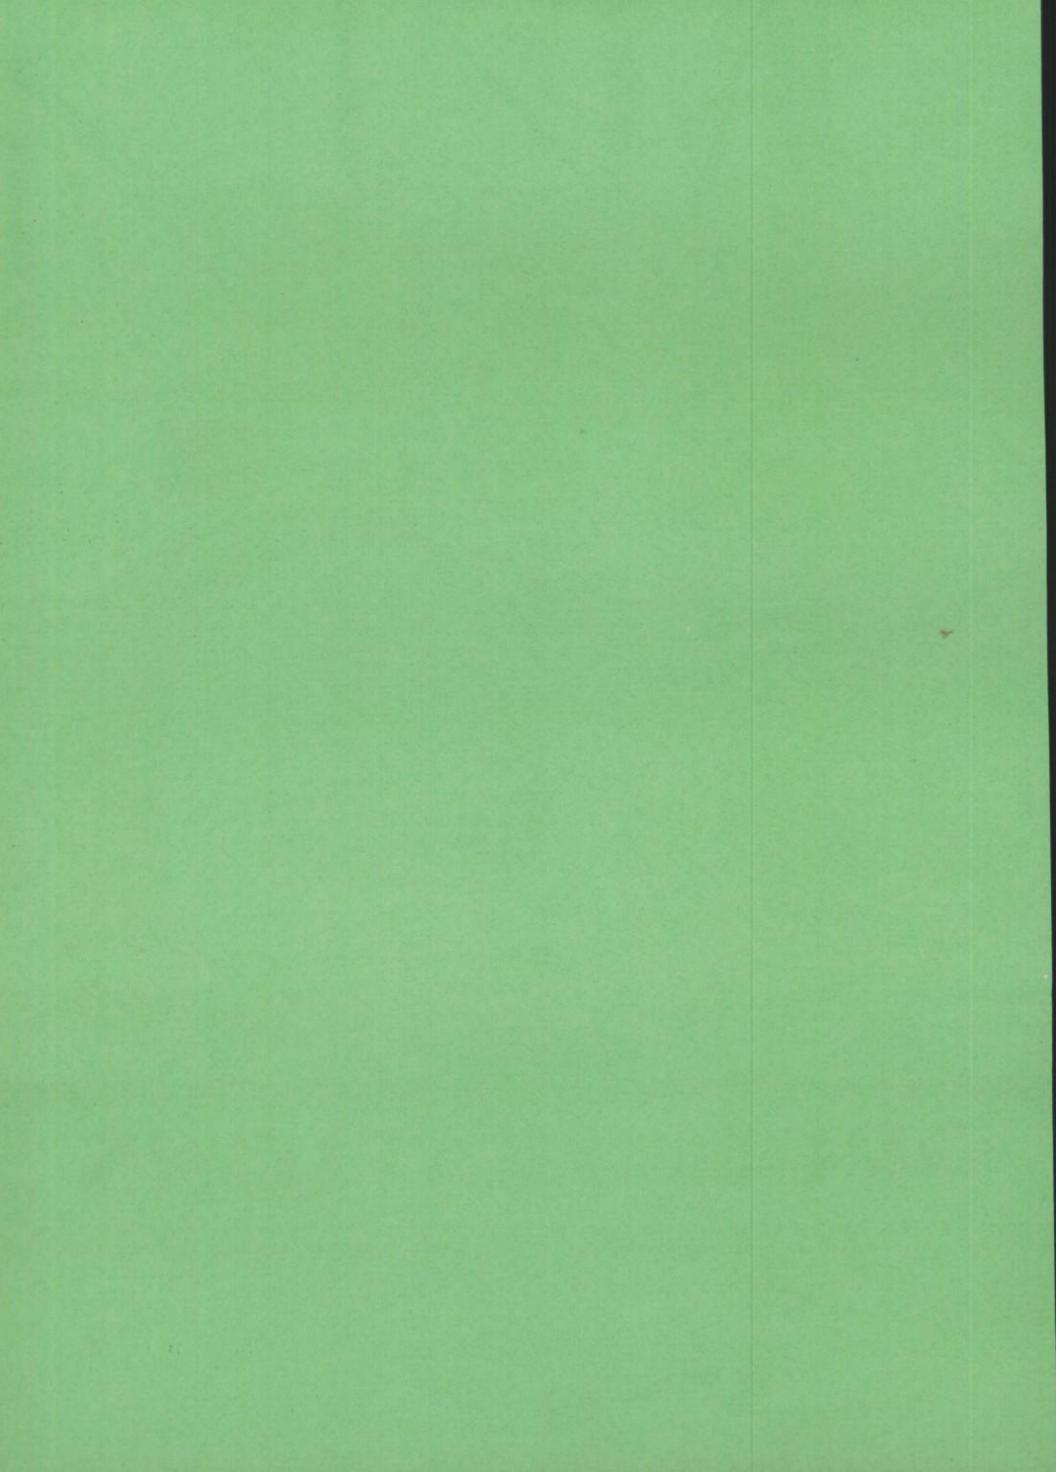

It's just for that purpose We've presented them here: To make bygone school days Seem vivid and clear.

LITERARY AND MUSIC COMMISSION

About fourteen years ago, at the suggestion of Mr. B. C. B. Tighe, the Literary and Music Commission was formed. Its purpose has been to serve as the organization which solves problems common to every society.

Membership of the commission includes the advisers and vice presidents of each society. At the first meeting the chairman is chosen from the faculty and the secretary from the students. Mr. Tighe is a member ex officio of the group.

As it was originally planned, the commission had three duties to perform. The first was to manage debate and handle all expenses incurred. In the past few years, however, control of the debate program has been transferred from the commission to another group. The commission now arranges the social calendar for the school year and sets the dates for club meetings. As the final duty, the group discusses and passes the rules and regulations which affect all the societies.

The Literary and Music Commission has upheld a more democratic policy in the plays produced in Fargo High School. In the spring of 1935 all-school plays were introduced and the activities of the commission were made to include their jurisdiction. The casts of these plays, which formerly were presented only by the play-producing societies, were then opened to anyone in the student body.

Meetings are called only when there is important business to be discussed.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

At an impressive candle-lighting ceremony before a general assembly on April 23, forty-eight new members were initiated into National Honor Society. These initiates were nominated by a faculty committee and elected by the entire faculty on a basis of definite qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

These four qualifications were emphasized in the initiatory service by people who spoke briefly concerning each. They were as follows: Elof Dygve, character; Franklin Heggeness, scholarship; Jane Blair, leadership; and Betty Taylor, service. George Black, president, made the welcome speech to which Virginia McMillan responded for the initiates. After Principal B. C. Tighe had administered the pledge which old and new members alike repeated after him, he gave the official welcome and congratulation of the school as a whole.

The Fargo High School chapter, originally called the Marcelleans, became a chapter of the National Honor Society through affiliation in 1925.

Members of the National Athletic Scholarship Society were guests at the annual banquet and dance held in the Waldorf Hotel on Wednesday, June 2.

NATIONAL ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

National Athletic Scholarship Society was established in 1925 at Cleveland, Ohio, for the purpose of giving credit to the high school athlete for his accomplishments. In that year the organization was formed by four men, including B. C. B. Tighe of Fargo. Through Mr. Tighe's close connection with the group, Fargo High soon became affiliated with the society. This year marks the eleventh anniversary of the Fargo chapter.

Last year there was an innovation in the qualifications for membership. Formerly a boy had to win one major letter or two minor letters to become a member. Now, however, it is necessary that he win only one letter, major or minor, to become a member. But also he must show good scholarship, citizenship, and sportsmanship to be eligible.

Mr. Tighe was formerly national president of the club and is now national treasurer.

Every year the National Honor Society invites the members of the National Athletic Scholarship Society to the banquet. Although meetings of the National Athletic Scholarship Society are not held regularly, there is an annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers.

SPORTSMANSHIP CLUB

The Sportsmanship Club, a chapter of the National Sportsmanship Brotherhood, has completed its ninth year of existence in Fargo High School.

The members have strived to follow the aims of a true sportsman which are these: keep the rules; keep faith with comrades; keep your temper; keep yourself fit; keep a stout heart in defeat; keep your pride under in victory; keep a sound soul, a clean mind, and a healthy body; play the game.

Anyone in the high school may nominate for membership to this club a student who has shown a high degree of sportsmanship in all his activities. After the faculty has approved the names, the list is voted on by the junior and senior classes. The number of members is restricted to five per cent of the whole student body. Only juniors and seniors are admitted. In the past year the group numbered sixty-two.

Meetings, which are held once each month, consist of musica' selections, oral presentations, and talks on sportsmanship by members or an outside speaker.

As is customary each year, the Sportsmanship Club entertained the basketball team and the hockey team at a banquet and dance on April 3.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society of High School Journalists, is an organization to promote journalistic activities and raise news-writing standards.

Frequent meetings were held during the year and special speakers were engaged. A program was presented in an assembly and the organization sponsored the editorial policy of the Cynosure in regard to safe driving.

In January eight students were selected for membership from the literary and the business staffs of the school paper. Phyllis Hogan, Phyllis Ward, Phyllis Lee, Betty Erickson, Betty Jane Taylor, Jean Glaser, Jean Heller, and Beatrice Feickert were chosen. On April 28 a banquet was held at which time the new members were initiated in a candle-light service. Twelve pupils were admitted the second semester.

This year the Fargo Chapter of Quill and Scroll was named for the notable journalist, William Allen White of Kansas. Virginia McMillan, corresponding secretary, wrote Mr. White for permission to use his name. He sent a picture of himself and wished the club good luck.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB

Taking the place of the original French Club, a new Modern Language Club has been organized this year which is open to French, Spanish, and German students. Of the three program meetings held each semester, the first is given by the French division, the second by the Spanish, and the third by the German students.

The value of familiarity with foreign languages is stressed. Many interesting talks are given on life, customs, and travel in the countries concerned. Musical selections, poems, skits, and movies add variety to the program meetings.

Since all modern language departments have been included, the present membership has been increased to fifty. New members are initiated at a candlelight ceremony.

An assembly program was put on the first semester by the members. As usual a Christmas party was held with gifts, refreshments, games, and a Christmas tree to lend atmosphere.

In the spring the club sponsored a movie showing European people in their native dress, homes, and ways of living. Concluding the activities of the group for the year was the spring picnic.

This year pins have been ordered, which embody the newly adopted emblem, name, and colors of the club.

S. P. Q. R. CLASSICAL CLUB

Today automobiles, trains, and airplanes are commonplace, but in the days of the Romans these modes of transportation were unknown. For the Roman, the chariot was a very popular vehicle, especially at the races. As the chariot of old sped over the arena, so the S.P.Q.R., in an imaginary chariot, travels over its course throughout the year.

Corresponding to the procession of contestants in the ancient races are the initiatory rites of the S.P.Q.R. The candidate for membership is placed under the tutelage of a god, who watches over him throughout his S.P.Q.R. life. After the initiation, the racers speed on; and as they go, they gather enthusiasm.

The next three laps of the race are the monthly programs. Through reports and skits, the members learn of the customs of ancient Romans. Comedy playlets, musical selections, and current topics add interest and give variety to the programs.

An important part of the race is the fifth lap—the editing of the "Nunc et Tunc" "Now and then", really once a year, the members of S.P.Q.R. edit this paper, receiving contributions of essays, poetry, and stories from Latin classes.

The S.P.Q.R. comes to the last lap of the race with its annual picnic at which all participate in games, feasting, and reminiscences of a happy and profitable year.

HISTORY CLUB

Time marches on and history is made!

The History Club, organized in September, 1932, has as its aim the furthering of each member's knowledge of history

At the first meeting of the year Poland was studied. Miss Frances Kapuscinski told the club of her travels in Poland. The second meeting was held after the fall elections. Therefore, this meeting was given over to a discussion of election returns, political parties and platforms, and candidates. The Christmas program was a combination of a social hour and historical program. Short biographies of great men in history were given. The feature for the second semester was a Lincoln's Day program.

To help the members appreciate the interesting side of history, various projects have been encouraged. Worth-while ones in the past include a study of Fargo, a history of Fargo High School, a study of the Missouri River diversion project, a North Dakota soil survey, and a collection of information on the International Peace Garden on the North Dakota-Canadian border. This year pictures of state capitals, flags, flowers, and seals were collected and exhibited.

EUTHENICS CLUB

"Love of home and of what the home stands for converts the drudgery of daily routine into a high order of social service." This is the guiding light of the Euthenics Club, an organization which was founded in 1927 when a group of girls interested in homemaking decided to utilize the resources of modern science to improve home life.

The Euthenics Club has been affiliated with the National Home Economics Society; hence, the national initiation services are used when new members are admitted at the beginning of each semester. Any girl who has had one year of high school home economics and who is able to pass a test with a mark of eighty or above is eligible. Meetings are held once each month.

One project of the girls this year was the cleaning and shellacking of the trophies, and the making of costumes for a school play. The social program consisted of a farewell sleigh ride party for the seniors, a pot luck supper prepared by the girls, and the annual picnic.

Through the Euthenics Club the girls are able to observe more closely the careers available in the field of home economics, dietetics, designing, teaching, and homemaking.

SCIENCE CLUB

To develop and promote further interest in scientific research has been the purpose and achievement of the Science Club. Since its organization in 1925, Mr. H. M. Robinson has been the adviser.

The club holds a meeting once a month at which scientific experiments are performed, and short lectures are given by the members.

In 1933 the Science Club was admitted to the "Students' Science Club of America."

It is now number one in the state of North Dakota and number fifty-five in the United States.

The symbol of the club, a skull and crossbones attached to a Bunsen burner, has been made into a pin, and a similar design has been used on a ring.

Each semester, during the evening of the All-Society Party, new members are initiated into the club. The Science Club holds the reputation of having the most rigid initiation in the school.

A picnic each spring is an event looked forward to by the aspiring young scientists. The membership of the club is increasing every year.

RADIO CLUB

Amateurs, would-be amateurs, and radio fans who want to further their radio education, constitute the Fargo High School Radio Club, founded in 1927.

Meetings held every two weeks consist of talks given by members on various phases of radio with an outside speaker, usually a Fargo "ham." For example, last year Mr. Robert Schultz, who built the Fargo police radio system, spoke on the building of the transmitter and then the club went to police headquarters to inspect the station.

Last semester the club obtained permission to inspect the W D A Y transmitter in West Fargo and went out to see what makes the wheels of WDAY go 'round. In a like manner, privately owned short-wave stations have been visited in previous years, none, however, this year.

The members discuss their radio experiences and sets at meetings, buy and sell parts, and warm up their fingers with code practice given by one of the more experienced members. Occasionally films have been brought to be shown.

In a room adjoining the physics laboratory the club maintains a short-wave transmitter. The members contemplate rebuilding the transmitter and securing a renewal of the old license which has run out.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLUB

To further participation in girls' sports was the principal reason for organizing the G.A.C. Girls who are interested and take part in a number of different sports can gain admittance to this club.

When a girl has earned 100 points she automatically becomes an associate member. To be initiated into the club, she has to have 500 points, of which 100 must have been earned in one main sport. She can attain a higher honor, that of a letter, for 1,000 points. The highest award given is a gold pin to girls who have 1,500 points, a distinction well worth recognition.

Points are awarded for the unorganized sports too, which are hiking, skiing, skating, and tobogganing. The points are recorded daily, and after the interscholastic tournaments.

Since the pool has been reopened, swimming is considered an unorganized sport in the point system. Recreational swimming is conducted after school on Wednesdays.

Any girl in the club can be elected as a supervisor of the different sports, such as baseball, soccer, cageball, and basketball.

With Miss Beyer's aid the Girls' Athletic Club aspires to greater achievements for next year.

HARLEQUIN

To stimulate interest in the theater is the aim of Harlequin Dramatic Society which was founded in 1920. This aim is accomplished through actual participation in plays and programs. Program meetings consist of skits, readings, and reports on plays, lives of great stage and screen personages, and theater magazines. A requirement of the club is that each member appear on a program each semester.

The novel initiation which the club adopted last year was used both times this year. This initiation follows court procedure. After stern judge and solemn jury have heard the appeals of the attorneys for defense and prosecution, the several initiates enter the gates of Harlequin and become Harlequin members.

The December meeting of the society was followed by a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts. The second semester initiation was held on February 13, and St. Valentine's Day was duly observed.

"Two Crooks and a Lady", a one act play by Eugene Pillot, was presented in assembly on January 12. The one act play "Masquerade" by Marion Holbrook was given March 19.

KENT LITERARY SOCIETY

Thirty-seven years ago a group of students formed a literary society and named it after Miss Eliza Kent, principal of Fargo High School at that time. The society's main interest was debating. Now Kent activities include all types of literary art.

One literary contribution each semester is required of every member. The contributions are judged by a committee whose chairman this year was June Probstfield. Exceptional work in writing has been done by Jeanne McPhail, Charles Murphy, Ann Murphy, Richard Sehrt, Bob Lium, Merle Myron, Jeanne Hovden, Ralph Martin, and Theo Hanson.

Jean Glaser, heading the program committee, has been responsible for diverse and worthwhile programs. Shortly before Christmas an assembly skit, written by Jean Glaser and Marion Ebeltoft and entitled "Jist a Reminiscin", was given. Anne Lontz, Jack Shotwell, Richard Sehrt, Jeanne Hovden, Bob Lium, William Ames, Ann Murphy, Charles Murphy, and Dorothy Tivis lent their talents toward making the assembly successful.

During the year the following were taken into membership: Delores Frick, Betty Stern, Dorothy Clapp, Jocelyn Birch, Jack Heisler, Ina Verne Edell, Kenneth Jones, Jane Lashkowitz, Paul Pancratz, Herbert Harris, and Kenneth Solhjem.

PHOSTERIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Phosterian Literary Society aims to train its members in right thinking, to give practice in oral presentation, and to develop a feeling of good fellowship.

Six meetings are held annually. The programs consist of musical selections, extemporaneous speaking contests, brief debates, book reviews, discussions of current topics, interpretative readings, and skits. Each member is required to be on at least two programs a year. In addition, the group gives one program before the assembly to arouse interest and to develop pride in the society.

The social program consists of two initiation parties, a Christmas program at which Santa Claus arrives with gifts for everyone, and a picnic.

This year the first initiation party took the form of a county fair. The barker, Eleanor Bergan, allured all to the big tent, where freaks of every kind (the new members) were kept. Each new member put on his little act. At the second initiation, when seven new members were introduced, old and new alike were called upon to take part. George Cook, the president, found yawning until he could make someone else yawn a rather arduous task. Ossie Fredrickson managed to drink a large glass of water in one draught.

Election of officers twice a year gives more members an opportunity to assume leadership.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The forty home-room delegates who make up the Junior Red Cross Council began the year's activities by taking roll call and enlisting the support of the student body.

The Prevention of Accidents in the Home and on the Farm campaign was the first project. Pamphlets were distributed to the homes and the danger of carelessness was stressed. Just before Thanksgiving each homeroom filled a basket with a Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family.

Before the Christmas holidays the Council made a scrap book describing our school, Fargo, and North Dakota. This book was sent to Denton, Texas, in return for one that was received from the students of Denton High School telling about their state and city. The English III classes contributed letters to our scrap book. Another of the Christmas projects was the designing of Christmas menu covers by the art classes. These were printed by the printing classes and sent to the U.S.S. Raleigh at San Diego.

To aid the flood sufferers, the Council sold old newspapers and coathangers, and took a voluntary collection among the high school students. As a result of these projects, forty-five dollars and fifty cents was sent to the Cass County chapter of the American Red Cross.

On May 18 the Junior Red Cross sponsored a program given before the student body in recognition of World Good Will Day.

DEBATE

"Resolved, That all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated" was the question discussed this season by Fargo High's debaters.

The debate program, outdoing itself each succeeding year in activity, reached a new high in growth and expansion this season through the coaching influence of the Messrs. Krueger, Nerhus, and Horlocker.

The invitation extended by the Moorhead State Teachers' College High School debate clinic started the wheels turning in November. Representing this school were five veterans: George Black and Charlotte Panimon as negatives, and Beatrice Feickert, Marguerite Olson, and Evelyn Stern as affirmatives. George Black received special recognition by being chosen as one of the ten outstanding debaters.

The intramural team composed of Clark Heggeness, Kay Kennedy, and Charles Murphy distinguished itself by emerging undefeated this year.

Under Charlotte Panimon's management, five schools sent debaters to Fargo for the March 12-13 get-together. This served largely to acquaint the various schools with a taste of the opposition some of them would encounter in the North Dakota state tourney at Grand Forks. Besides Fargo High, Moorhead High, Moorhead State Teachers' College High, Valley City, Grand Forks, and Wahpeton participated. Fargo's reputation was adequately upheld by Charles Murphy, Earl Holmer, Robert Johnson, and Beatrice Feickert. No decisions were given in this tournament.

Charlotte Panimon, Rolfe Tainter, Earl Holmer, Charles Murphy, and Robert Johnson were entered in the district contest at Valley City. The school receiving highest honors there was entitled to compete in the state tournament at Grand Forks.

March 31 saw the opening of another intramural program in which the formal principles of debate were studied.

PEP CLUB

This year the Pep Club, under the direction of Miss Katherine Rowlands and Miss Irene Beyer, reached a new record of 209 members. To arouse the interest of the girls in the athletic program of the school is the purpose of the group.

Fargo High's football season came to a fitting climax at the traditional banquet given by the Pep Club in honor of the eleven. The theme of this year's dinner was the Football Special. Various decorations gave the impression of a dining-car.

Mary Jo Sheffield, as stewardess, was toastmaster and welcomed the squad. The first chef, Bobbe Rusch, greeted the boys; and Ossie Fredrickson, the first waiter, spoke in behalf of the team. Principal B. C. B. Tighe and Supt. H. H. Kirk, dining car conductor and superintendent of the dining car, respectively, gave short talks. Mr. Still, commissary, gave out the letters and named Maston Rifenberg captain, and Johnny Jones co-captain of next year's team. A talk by Mr. Bridgeford, pantry-man, ended the program.

After the banquet, a dance was held in the gym with Frank Scott's orchestra furnishing the music. Five committees worked hard to make this affair a success. The members of the theme and program committee were Anne Lontz, Gail Porter, Ann Murphy, Betty Taylor, Bobbe Rusch, and Jeanne Baker.

PEP CLUB, Continued

The first assembly that the Pep Club staged this year was in the form of a sissy football game. The girls represented different members of the team. They sang songs composed by Jeanne McPhail. The girls that took part were Mary McCannel, Mary Jo Sheffield, Betty Stern, Dolores Frick, Luella Larson, Elda Brunzell, Betty Cosgriff, Gail Porter, Marcene Ridley, Delores McDowell, Lorraine Lee, Bobbe Rusch, Barbara Schmallen, Renee Walz, Ann Murphy, June Probstfield, Virginia Johnson, Bertha Cobb, Marion Holmgren, Beatrice Feickert, Gudrun Olson, Jean Rusch, Betty Taylor, Jean Miller, Jeanne McPhail.

"The Music Goes Round and Round" was the theme of the basketball skit written by Mr. Schonberger and presented during a pep assembly. The girls enacted a mock basketball game, and sang songs which fitted the occasion. Those participating were Elda Brunzell, Beatrice Feickert, Lorraine Lee, Renee Walz, June Probstfield, Marcene Ridley, Jean Rusch, Sylvia Spear, Dolores Frick, Jeanne Baker, Jeanne McPhail, Jeanne Miller, Betty Stern, Bobbe Rusch, Janice Follett, Patty Lavelle, Cathryn Casselman, Virginia McMillan, Barbara Schmallen, Dorothy Tivis, Nancy Carnine, and Helen Warner.

SISTOCRATIC LEAGUE

Fostering a more democratic and friendly spirit among the girls of Fargo High, affording the privilege of serving others, and providing monthly entertainment for its members are still the ideals of the Sistocratic League. The League endeavors to make these ideals realities through the conscientious work of its council, its committee, and the cooperation of its members. The executive body of this organization is the council which is composed of four officers and chairmen of the following committees: Service, Senior Little Sister, Friendly, Dress, Music, Scholarship, and Publicity.

The satisfaction of serving others is ample reward to those who have given of their time and talents to the League.

T

The League's special projects are many, For Christmas, Thanksgiving, and all; And the gay Easter basket with contents so good

Are memories we all may recall.

H

Service to others their pass-word,
And here's how they carry it out:
Carrying announcements from first floor to third
Each noon, of what's up and about.
Girls' lockers are checked—some red tagged;

Lost and found sales are conducted; Our progress would surely have lagged Were this fine committee deducted.

III

They find a big sister for each new girl
Who enters here during the year,
To help them through days that seem all
awhirl,

To be friendly when all else is queer.

All through the semester they keep in touch

With the new girls placed under their care;

They teach them the rules, find them new friends and such,

So that here friendless girls are quite rare.

IV

You probably would never believe
That each member helps pay the bills
For flowers sent to the bereaved
And cards to those who are ill.
They call girls absent for illness
And inquire as to their health;
They sponsor a spirit of friendliness
More precious to us than great wealth.
They bring cheer to the needy and "shutin"

By reading or furnishing food; The joy which results from the friendship's good deeds

Put all in a comfortable mood.

V

A bulletin board they now keep, Showing what should be worn and when; Of suggestions Smart Sally has heaps. Just glance at it now and then.

VI

This committee is quite indispensable
To our parties, each different and gay;
Its members are musically sensible
And serve in a musical way.

VII

Scholarship pins are awarded
To one girl from every class
Who has the most improvement recorded
Or her marks the others surpass.
If some subjest should prove much too hard
And it makes you disgusted and blue,
Just ask for a tutoring card
And someone will surely help you.

VIII

Their aim is to get information
On what each committee is doing
And announce with loud exclamation
Whenever a party is brewing.
Each month a paper is published
For you to read and then know
Just what the Council's accomplished,
Though their funds often run very low.

IX

To honor the new girls, we gave a tea;
As children we scampered and played
We sailed on a tour to lands o'er the sea
And many new friends we made.
At Christmas each guest made a toy
To be sent some unfortunate one.
On a picnic there, too, was much joy.
Our parties are always such fun.

ORCHESTRA

During the past school year, the orchestra has done very commendable work under Mr. Sorlien's direction. This active organization has made many successful public appearances which include playing between acts of school plays, and at the Annual Sermon and Commencement exercises.

The orchestra was drilled in baton discipline, intonation of the instruments, proper balance, and other related phases of good musicianship. Occasionally students were called upon to give accounts of the lives of the composers whose works they studied.

A wide variety of music was played, ranging from Strauss's classic "Die Fledermaus" to the modernistic "Showboat" by Jerome Kern. Some of the others were "Jupiter Symphony" by Mozart, Menuetto from "L'Arlesienne Suite" by Bizet, "Grasshopper's Dance" with marimba solo by Bucalossi, and "Impresario" overture by Mozart.

Three contest selections were listed this year. They were "Jean de Paris" by F. A. Boieldiew, "Oedipus in Colonus" by Sacchini-Franko, and "Symphonie Miniature" by Johnson.

Officers are elected as in other organizations and a librarian is appointed to take care of the music.

The personnel of the entire orchestra was practically doubled in the second semester.

BAND

If by chance you should be in the halls of Fargo High School any Thursday or Friday morning about nine forty-five you might be thrilled and awed by hearing melodious strains floating up from the band room. The reason would be that the school band was rehearing under the guiding baton of Mr. L. C. Sorlien.

The membership of the band is about forty-five. To become a member, all are required to try out before the director. The Prescott Technique System has been endorsed and used by Mr. Sorlien in the past year.

During the school year the band plays upon a great many occasions, such as pep assemblies, football and basketball games, and the annual gym exhibition. A music contest is held annually at the University of North Dakota and for this event a band picked by the director is sent to Grand Forks to enter the contest.

Taken from the band personnel are several smaller groups. There is a trombone trio, a brass quartet, and "The Little German Band."

Recently the school board purchased for the band a double B flat Sousaphone. The group greatly appreciated this because it has helped to create a better tonal balance.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

As the echoes of another season of melodic vocalizing drift into the past, we hear again in reminiscent fancy the clear male voices of the Fargo High School Boys' Glee Club harmonizing upon the contest selections for 1937.

During the first semester of the school year the glee club included twenty-six members, but this number was increased to forty-five during the second term. From this group, twenty-four were selected for the high school A Cappella choir, and four of these composed the boys' quartet.

The past year was spent chiefly making progress by the individual members in developing the proper tonal placement, intonation, articulation, and resonance.

Other activities of the glee club included appearances at the senior class commencement exercises, before the high school assembly, and in the spring contest at Grand Forks in May. Here the group has won first place for several consecutive years.

The contest pieces this year were "O Vermeland, Thou Fairest", a Swedish folk song, and "Pirate's Song" by Freeman High. The glee club is under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Another successful year has ended for the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien.

The group, which comprises about sixty girls, presented several numbers at both January and June commencement exercises.

From this group the girls' sextet, trio, and members of the mixed quartet are chosen. Comprising the sextet during the first semester were Margaret Torrence, Doris Halvorson, Sylvia Spear, Jean Stucky, Lorraine Lee, and Beverly Brown. The second semester the group was made up of Margaret Torrence. Sylvia Spear, Lorraine Lee, Beverly Brown, Marjorie Heidinger and Betty Houd.

The most important event of the year was the annual music contest sponsored by the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. To determine who was to participate, the girls tried out, a group of twenty-five being selected. The contest pieces for the club were "Grey Stones" by Charles Harford Lloyd, and "The Elfin Horn", a Swedish folk song, by Bryceson Trehane. The contest pieces for the trio were the "Spinning Song" by Mary Helen Brown, and "Little Boy Blue" by Hugh S. Roberton.

A CAPPELLA

In order to become a member of the A Cappella Choir, a musical organization under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien, an applicant must be a member of either the girls' or the boys' glee club.

The club's purpose is not merely to learn songs but to develop a greater interest in music and to learn the technicalities which make music truly beautiful. Voice blend, intonation, perfect articulation, correct interpretation of music, and beautiful tone quality are the aims which the choir strives to attain.

Besides singing carols at the annual Christmas pageant, the choir appeared on a Rotary Club program and broadcast several times over the radio.

Each year about forty-two members are selected to compose the choir which participates in the contest at Grand Forks. The selections chosen for the contest this year were "Jesus, Word of God" and "My Lovely Celia."

The high school is justly proud of the choir and well may it be, for, clad in the purple and white vestments, it is a group which is inspiring to the ear and pleasing to the eye.

ORPHEUS

Orpheus, the only musical society of the school, was organized in 1929, and is therefore one of the younger organizations. It is an associate member of the Federation of Music Clubs in Washington, D. C.

As sponsor for musical events, the club has charge of the sale of tickets for performances given by this school and other organizations.

Organized to foster musical talent, the Orpheus Club gives its members an opportunity to perform publicly and encourages students to recognize and appreciate the works of well-known masters.

Outstanding functions which the club performs are these: presenting an assembly program, awarding a pennant to the class winning first place in the assembly sing contest, and editing a musical paper, "A Tempo."

Candidates to the club are chosen for their musical ability and their knowledge of the fundamentals of music. The adviser, president, and three members appointed by the president compose the committee which judges the tryouts.

Three program meetings are held a semester and each member is required to appear on a program once a semester. The Orpheus Club, with a total membership of forty-one, has among its members the most prominent musicians of the school.

"THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING"

On November 14, the first all-school play, "The Whole Town's Talking", was presented under the direction of Mr. J. P. Schroeder.

Henry Simmons (Paul Nelson) had one great desire—that Chet Benney (Franklin Heggeness) marry his daughter Ethel (Mary McCannel). His plans were scorned by his wife Hattie (Ann Murphy) who thought that Ethel's husband should be a worldly man. Henry and Chet despaired when Roger Shields (Theo Hanson) arrived with Ethel.

Because Hattie disliked his dancing, Henry took lessons without her knowledge from Sadie Bloom (Betty Erickson). The morning after a lesson, a taxi driver returned Sadie's hand bag to Mrs. Simmons. Then the trouble began.

In order to interest Ethel, Chet and Henry bought a picture of the film star, Letty Lythe, and inscribed it with a tender message to Chet. Hearing this, the Luna theater engaged Miss Lythe (Marcene Ridley) for a personal appearance.

Simmons, wanting another dancing lesson, told his wife he had an important meeting with Donald Swift, a name which he had taken from the hotel register. In answer to Hattie's phone call, Donald Swift (George Black) came to the Simmons' home. Shields showed him the picture and Swift became furious because Miss Lythe was his fiancee.

Shields brought Letty to see Chet. Letty, hoping to help Chester, claimed him as her one true love. Ethel broke the engagement, but when Chester assured her that Miss Lythe had been the only other girl in his life, they became reconciled. Meanwhile, when Sadie Bloom appeared, Henry introduced her as an old girl of Chet's. Ethel denounced Chet, threw away his ring, and rushed out of the room.

Chet and Henry finally calmed Swift, who discovered that the picture had been taken when he was engaged to Miss Lythe. Chester persuaded him to fight it out in the dark. Swift and Shields knocked each other out and Ethel received her "conquering hero."

"MAKE-BELIEVE"

"Make-Believe," a prologue and three acts by A. A. Milne with music by Georges Dorlay, was presented December 5, under the direction of Miss Adela Hansen.

In the prologue Rosemary (Barbara Schmallen) writes a play which has the following acts.

The first act tells of a princess (Betty Taylor) and her three suitors (Jack Garry, Herbert Harris, Earl Holmer). Her mother and father (Robert Haas and Renee Walz) work out a scheme whereby the best man will win the hand of the princess, but in the end the humble woodcutter (Ray Struble) turns out to be the best man.

In the second act are depicted the adventures of Oliver (Kenne h Solhjem) and his sister Jill (Cleone Anderson) on a desert island. Here they meet the pirate chief (Donald Hoff) and his lusty pirates (Dwight Lewis, Eugene Fuller, Rolland Ratz, James Lavelle). Jill marries the pirate chief, and Oliver marries the dusky maiden (Betty Lou Pannebaker) who is found on the beach.

Act three introduces Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard (Eddie O'Brien and Dolores Frick) whose dearest wish is to have nine children. These are named according to the alphabet: Ada, Bertram, Caroline, Denis, Elsie, Frank, Gwendolyn, Harold, and Isabelle. Introduced, too, is Father Christmas (Robert Haas) who entertains at a Christmas party, and grants the wishes of all who come. Guests at his party are Bluebeard (Gordon Baldwin), Miss Ridinghood (Elsabe Jess), Robinson Crusoe (John Anderson), Princess Goldilocks (Marietta Bryant), the woodcutter, the princess, the Curate, Miss Pinninger, the Doctor, Aunt Jane, Pirate Chief, and Dusky Maiden.

Other characters in this act are two burglars, a policeman, and the carol singers.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

A Christmas program was presented on the afternoon of December 18, in the darkened auditorium where the only light came from a row of white candles along the front of the stage. This was under the direction of Miss Adela Hansen.

The first scene takes place on Christmas Eve. Mr. and Mrs. Gilcrest (Dorothy Dewey and John Fitch) are seeking shelter from the wintry night. After a very tire-some journey they finally arrive at the home of Mrs. Brown (Jean Glaser). Her house is filled but she allows the couple to stay in her barn. That night a baby is born to them. Some boys and girls on their way home from skating discover the light in the barn. When they go in and find the new baby boy they each present him with a gift. Beatrice Scott, Jeanne Baker, Richard Sehrt, Bryant Warren, Marcia Comrie, and Kathryn Bower play the parts of the skaters. Several wealthy people stop at Mrs. Brown's to see the baby and the two women, Connie and Sue (Elizabeth McGibbon and Marian Ebeltoft) leave a wrap and jewels for the child. John (Robert Lium), the women's escort, also leaves a gift.

The second act shows the stable where Christ was born with Mary (Dorothy Dewey) sitting by the crude cradle in which the baby lies wrapped in swaddling clothes. Joseph (John Fitch) stands by Mary's side while an interlocutor (Franklin Heggeness) reads the story of the first Christmas. The three shepherds (Melvin Wisehart, Gaynor Manning, and Charles Sorenson) visit Mary and Joseph in the stable and fall down on their knees to worship the Christ child. Later the three kings (Walter Johnson, Osborne Fredrickson, and Henry Ray) come bringing precious gifts to the baby.

To add to the effectiveness of the pageant songs were sung by the carolers, the A Capella choir, under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien.

"THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR"

A matinee and an evening performance were given when the January class presented Bayard Veiller's three act melodrama, "The Thirteenth Chair," on January 20.

With an old Italian mansion as the setting, the story begins when Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Crosby (Charles Wattam and Janet Ulness) give an engagement party for their son Will (Charles Mattson) and his fiancee Helen O'Neill (Treva Murray).

Guests at the party include Mr. and Mrs. Crosby's daughter, He'en Trent (Lorraine Rice) and her husband Braddish Trent (Waldron Wigtil), Edward Wales (Joseph Levine), Mary Eastwood (Mazie Keith), Howard Standish, a rich lawyer (George Maher), and his sister Grace Standish (Dorothy Hektner), Phillip Mason (Richard Sehrt), and Elizabeth Erskine (Kathleen Colehour).

When Edward Wales hears that young Crosby is to marry Helen O'Neill, he becomes alarmed and for no apparent reason says he cannot congratulate them. Rosalie La-Grange (Marguerite Olson), a famous medium, has been summoned to the Crosby home by Edward Wales to aid him in discovering who killed Spencer Lee, a very good friend of Wales', who had been murdered previously.

A seance is started and just when Wales is about to find out the name of the murderer of his friend, he is murdered.

Tim Donahue (Charles Fish), a detective, takes over the case and immediately accuses Helen O'Neill. After much questioning he discovers that Madam La Grange is Helen's mother. Madam La Grange makes the real murderer confess through a fake seance and then calls upon the voice of the late Edward Wales; this is too much for Phillip Mason who confesses and is taken away by Sergeant Dunn (John Fitch).

Other characters are Doolan (Gordon Baldwin), a hick cop; and the butler (Edward Montiel).

"The Thirteenth Chair" was directed by Mr. Perry Fredericks.

"NEW BROOMS"

The first all-school play of 1937 was presented March 12.

Family relations are bitterly strained in the Bates family. Mr. Bates (Dwight Lewis) is a gruff, ill-tempered broom manufacturer, whose frank severity causes his housekeeper Margaret (Cathryn Casselman) to give up her position. When his son Tom (Kenneth Jones) avers that had his father's disposition been brighter he might have been far more successful in business, the old man becomes so irritated that he proposes that Tom assume all responsibilities for a period of one year—until June 8. Tom agrees. Young Bates' difficulties rapidly increase when Mr. Simpson (Paul Nelson), a contractor befriended by him, puts inadequate repairs upon the broom factory.

Meanwhile the cheerful new housekeeper, Geraldine Marsh (Leone Gilbert), daughter of an old friend of Bates, softens his disposition and he becomes the smiling gentleman; whereas Tom, weighed down by the pressure of business, becomes ill-tempered.

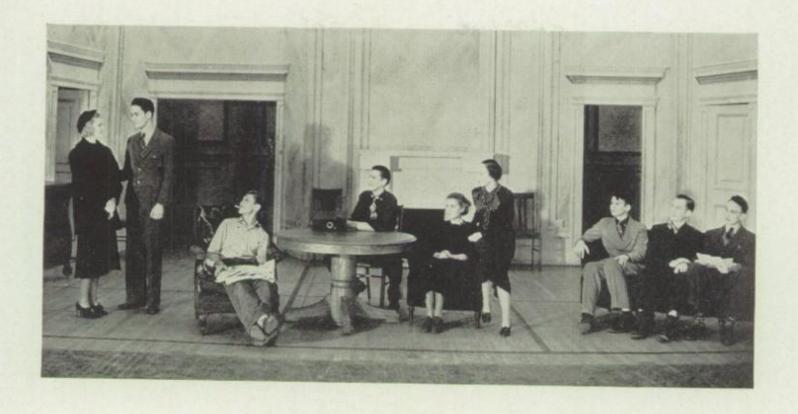

This reverse in temperament causes Tom's fiancee, Florence Wheeler (Jocelyn Birch), to become indifferent toward him and later she marries her cousin, George Morrow (Dick Trubey), a valuable oil well speculator. Matters are further complicated when Ethel Bates (Delin Rudd), Tom's sister, by accident, sees young Jerry place a kiss on Mr. Bates' forehead. Disgusted with life at home, Ethel marries Wallie Nowell (Herbert Harris), an old friend of hers, while Jerry and Bates travel south together for the winter.

The unexpected return of Jerry and Bates from Florida on June 8 resolves the circumstances into a happy ending as Jerry and Tom learn of their mutual attachment. Tom and his father are united by a new understanding, sadder but far wiser.

Other characters in the play are Nelson, the plant foreman (Fred Knight), Kneeland, company secretary (Jack Garry), Dr. Dow (Duane Pile), and the stolid domestic butler, Williams (George Black).

The play was under the direction of Mr. Sands, assisted by Mary Ann Thurman.

"THE SHOW-OFF"

"The Show-Off", by George Kelly, was presented under the direction of Mr. J. P. Schroeder April 24. This play was mainly a character sketch.

Aubrey Piper (Eddie O'Brien) is the long-winded show-off who is always wearing a carnation. From the beginning, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher (Odd Jacobson and Vera Woold-ridge) and their daughter Clara (Peggy Black) think that Aubrey is annoying and trouble-some. Clara objects to the everlasting lies he makes up and she sides in with her mother against him. Aubrey courts Amy (Jeanne Hovden), the temperamental daughter of the Fishers, and weds her a few months later.

Suddenly one day Joe Fisher (Ward Wooldridge) brings home news of a serious accident his father has had at the factory. The whole family is thrown into anxiety. Then out of a clear sky, Aubrey returns from being arrested for breaking a policeman's arm and running into a tro!ley car with a borrowed automobile. After the rest of the family have gone to the hospital, Amy tells Aubrey about her father's death. Then Mr. Gill (John Anderson), a working man, brings Mr. Fisher's things home from the factory, and Mr. Rogers (Perry Clark), an insurance man, comes to the house to settle the insurance.

Clara makes an about-face towards Aubrey and persuades her mother to allow Amy and Aubrey to live with her. After Aubrey returns from his hearing, Mrs. Fisher finds out that Frank Hyland (Spencer Fosteson), Clara's prosperous husband, has paid his fine of one thousand dollars. Joe makes a big fortune from a chemical formula that he has discovered by a mistake on Aubrey's part. Aubrey tells how he had bluffed his way through a deal that gives Joe twice as much money as he was supposed to receive. While Mrs. Fisher dreads the future, Amy adores Aubrey and thinks that he is too wonderful for words.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The Parent-Teacher Association of Fargo High School began activities with a meeting in October when the parents were given an opportunity to meet the teachers. American Education Week was observed in November when fifty pupils participated in a skit, "Contrast Between Old and New." In December a panel discussion was held on the topic, "The Youth of Today, Their Problems and Needs." Mrs. Oscar Kjorlie was leader and Mrs. H. H. Vowles, Miss Katherine Rowlands, J. P. Schroeder, T. W. Blair, Miss Ina Johnson, and A. F. Holmer participated.

"Recreational Life of the Child" was the subject of three talks at the January meeting. Miss Schropp stressed recreation in school, Rev. Mr. Gerberding, in the home; and Judge Monson, in the community. In February the parents were given a chance to go through the daily program. Superintendent H. H. Kirk gave an address "Our Task in Perspective", at the March meeting. Four debaters under R. P. Krueger's supervision presented a program for the Parent-Teachers Association in April. At the May meeting those taking part in the contests at Grand Forks provided the program.

At the eight regular meetings musical numbers were furnished under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien, and Mrs. Alvin Feickert was in charge of refreshments.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

Realizing the need of some organization to be in charge of the school publications, A. F. Cecka and George Pappas, editor-in-chief of the 1936 Cynosure Annual, drew up a plan for such an organization last spring. The original name was the Board of Control of Student Publications. It was soon recognized, however, that this name would be too lengthy so it was changed to Board of Publications.

As the work of this board is to supervise the school publications, the board appoints the editors-in-chief and business managers of the Cynosure Annual and Cynosure Bi-Weekly. It is the duty of the board to meet with the newly appointed editors and managers and decide on the entire personnel of the paper and the annual.

It is also the duty of the board to pass on Quill and Scroll applicants after they have been recommended by their advisers. If at any time some member of either staff is doing inferior work, the board may dismiss him. However, the student may appear in his own defense before the board, which in this case acts as a court in deciding what should be done.

The membership of the Board of Publications is made up of the editor and business manager of the Cynosure Bi-Weekly, the editor and the business manager of the Cynosure Annual of the preceding year, the literary and business advisers of the Bi-Weekly and the Annual, the head of the English department, and the principal of the high school.

The members of the board are as follows: A. F. Cecka, chairman; Harriet Rusch, secretary; Miss Ellison, Miss Fowler, Miss Williams, P. B. Fredericks, Jane Blair, Kemble Lewis, and Arthur Solow. Mrs. Carstens became a member this semester by virtue of her position as chairman of the English department.

CYNOSURE BI-WEEKLY EDITORIAL STAFF

"Where's Zimmerman's head?" "We're going to jump these people to the back page." "Where's the dummy?"

The above comments may sound like a combination anatomy class, athletic contest and bridge game, but they are only a few of the examples of journalistic jargon heard in 109.

With forty-one reporters and a large executive staff, the Cynosure Bi-Weekly under Mr. Cecka's supervision has improved in efficiency and increased in general interest. An unusual number and variety of columns have appeared this year—"Bit O'Blarney", "Roses and Raspberries", "The Spinal Column", "Around the Corridors", "Press Porridge", and "This and That."

Editor-in-chief for 1936-37 was Jane Blair; news editor, Merle Myron; feature editor, Dorothy Tivis; sports editor, Raymond Struble; assistant sports editor, Jack Weller; headline editors, Beth McGibbon and Evelyn Stern; exchange editor, Louise Crosby; desk editors, Virginia McMillan, Phyllis Hogan, Harriet Rusch, and Phyllis Ward; and art editors, Dick Trubey and Kenneth Solhjem.

CYNOSURE BI-WEEKLY BUSINESS AND PRINTING STAFFS

"A business and printing staff of over sixty people! No paper needs that many people to handle its business." That may be the reaction of some but the Cynosure's principle is that "many hands make light work." From a staff of less than ten to one requiring a separate picture of its own is the story in brief of the growth of the business and printing staffs.

The workers' names appear under the picture but a brief description of their work should be given. Commence with the work as it begins in the fall. The remnants of the previous year's advertising staff accept new recruits until their group numbers ten. Advertising solicitors are assigned their accounts and the copy for the first issue starts to flow in. Next the circulation manager has charge of enrolling new subscribers. A peppy skit in the assembly, enthusiastic home room campaigns put on by forty home room representatives, and lo! there are seven hundred subscribers on the lists. Collections for subscriptions are efficiently handled by the home room representatives. Advertising, subscribers, and then the task of putting into the forms all the bright copy written by the editorial staff. The printing staff handles that duty and works long and hard to have their work completed by Friday morning of each week the paper comes out. Friday afternoon, seventh period, finds the circulation staff, some eighteen strong, folding, addressing, and delivering papers to class rooms so that all may read the latest Cynosure. All is not done. The circulation manager completes the work by mailing copies to subscribers, advertisers, and schools on the exchange list. Next, the advertising manager and his assistants see that all advertising is recorded and bills sent out. The business manager has the many and varied tasks that constantly come up in the course of the year.

1937 CYNOSURE ANNUAL

"Cynosure" means the center of all eyes, and the Cynosure Annual was for ten persons the center of all hopes during the past year. These ten juniors, with a senior student as typist, comprised the staff of the 1937 Cynosure Annual. Chosen in May of the preceding year, the staff members started work in September, continuing until the book in its entirety had gone to press on May 1.

Various jobs go into the making up of a yearbook, not the least of which are the taking of pictures, formal and informal, assignments and write-ups, proof reading, lay-outs, and innumerable other little tasks that come up each day.

This year the juniors take great pride in presenting to the graduating seniors, the faculty, and students of Fargo High School this—the 1937 edition of the Cynosure Annual.

ATHLETIC COMMISSION

This organization is composed of six student representatives and three members of the faculty. The students and the classes they represented for 1937 were Bruce Hoverson, 10-B, James Poseley, 10-A, Tom Anderson, 11-B, John Feickert, 11-A, John Carlson, 12-B, and Gordon Wong, 12-A. John Fitch was the 12-A representative the first semester. The faculty members were Mr. Still, Mr. Bricker, and Mr. Galvin.

In awarding the letter "F" to the outstanding athletes, the commission attempts to maintain a high standard in regard to the sportsmanship and character of the recipients. First barrier for the candidate is the coach's recommendation, necessary to insure the candidate's athletic proficiency. Next the commission carefully inspects the candidate as to his attitude toward the sport and effort put forth, his scholastic standing, his adherence to training rules, and his sportsmanship in general. If the athlete can meet these qualifications, he is awarded the school insignia. The commission recognizes exceptional effort of an individual by awarding him a letter even if he has not played the usually required time in the interscholastic games.

The commission has a high regard for the competition for letters and approves of this because it makes the letter a truly coveted reward. The limited number of letters granted naturally adds greatly to their value. The commission also attempts to maintain the fine degree of sportsmanship customary in Fargo High School athletics.

FARGO 7 EAST GRAND FORKS o

Fargo High opened her football season on September 18 with a victory at East Grand Forks. The Midgets had the game well in hand throughout although the Little Green Wave twice threatened to score. Fuller made Fargo's lone score. Both teams played ragged ball at times as might be expected in the first game.

FARGO 26 FERGUS FALLS o

In the second game the much improved team of Harry Bridgeford trounced Fergus Falls on Dacotah Field. Both line and backfield had picked up speed and drive. Alex Horwitz scored on the most sensational run of the game after Johnny Jones had carried the ball up to the forty-five yard line. Floyd Nein and Ossie Fredrickson at ends played exceptionally well for the Purple and White.

FARGO o MINOT 13

The Midgets suffered their first defeat at the hands of the strong Magicians at Minot. The Fargo gridders were unable to stop Dennis Huntley, running behind good interference. The Midgets threatened in the last few minutes when Don Johnston blocked a punt which was recovered by Captain Ed Morgan on Minot's thirteen-yard line. Fuller then picked up three yards but the Midgets lost possession of the ball on the next play.

FARGO 20 BISMARCK o

After another week of hard practice the Midgets scored their third victory of the season at Bismarck. Charging linemen and speedy backs completely subdued the Demons. Early in the first quarter Jones ran twenty-one yards for the first touchdown. In the second quarter Fredrickson intercepted a Demon pass and sped forty-five yards to score. Frank Randich slanted off tackle from the eight-yard line to score the final touchdown. Cocaptain Fuller again kicked the extra point.

FARGO o VALLEY CITY 24

A week and a half later Fargo played the eventual winners of the mythical state championship, the Valley City Hi-Liners, beneath the floodlights on Dacotah Field. Although playing a strong defensive game, the Midgets had difficulty in stopping Willey, Hi-Liner fullback, and the Hi-Liner spinner play. Fuller, Stutlien, and Morgan were outstanding in the Fargo defense.

FARGO 7 MOORHEAD 21

On October 26 Fargo High lost a game to a heavy Moorhead team. The Spuds, led by Cecil Sturgeon, set the pace throughout the contest. Late in the fourth quarter Fuller dashed off tackle for the lone Midget counter. Fuller kept the Spuds alert with his usual brilliant running attack all through the game.

FARGO 7 JAMESTOWN 7

On the last day of October the Midgets clashed with the Blue Jays at Jamestown. The Blue Jays scored early in the first period as the result of a Fargo fumble on her own thirteen-yard line. In the second quarter the Midgets warmed up, but four plays on the Jamestown one-yard line were unsuccessful. In the third quarter Fuller passed thirtyfive yards to Randich for the touchdown and then kicked the tying point. Stan Taylor played an excellent defensive game at tackle, as did Pat Shirley at center.

FARGO 15 GRAND FORKS o

Completing her season on muddy Dacotah Field Armistice day, Fargo upset Grand Forks 15.0. Midway in the first quarter Gene Fuller kicked a field goal for three points. Fuller passed to Nein in the second quarter for a touchdown, and Rifenberg, at fullback, smashed center for the final tally. Johnston and Rifenberg played well in the backfield while Don Craig, Nein, and Fredrickson were outstanding in the line.

Members of the squad at the end of the season were as follows: left half-back, Gene Fuller and Carl Miller; right half-back, Johnny Jones and Merrill Stutlien; full-back, Alex Horwitz and Red Rifenberg; quarter-back, Frank Randich, Don Johnston, and Roy McCarthy. In the line were Pat Shirley, Dick Shafer, and Ray Tharaldson as centers; at right end, Ossie Fredrickson; Floyd Nein, and Eddie O'Brien at left end; Stan Taylor, Elof Dygve, Jim Davis, and Norman Kamins at the guard positions; and Don Craig, Ed Morgan, and Bob Mason, tackles.

Gene Fuller was honored by a position on the all-state team at the end of the season.

BASKETBALL

With only three lettermen, Ossie Fredrickson, Bob Ulland, and Walter Johnson, returning, Coach Henry L. Rice regarded the Fargo High cage prospects for the year as anything but bright. His hopes were bolstered by the arrival of Johnny Abbott from Bismarck and by several boys with experience on the reserve squad.

A rangy, swift-passing Midget team outclassed the Grafton Northerners here on December 6. The Midgets took the lead at the outset and increased it through each quarter to win 37-22. Ernie Anderson led the Fargo scoring with nine points.

On the next Friday, the Midgets overwhelmed the Fergus Falls Otters 50-25 on the Fargo floor. The fast break proved to be an effective scoring play for the Midgets. Johnny Abbott, with nine field goals, led the Midget scoring, while Bob Ulland played an excellent defensive game.

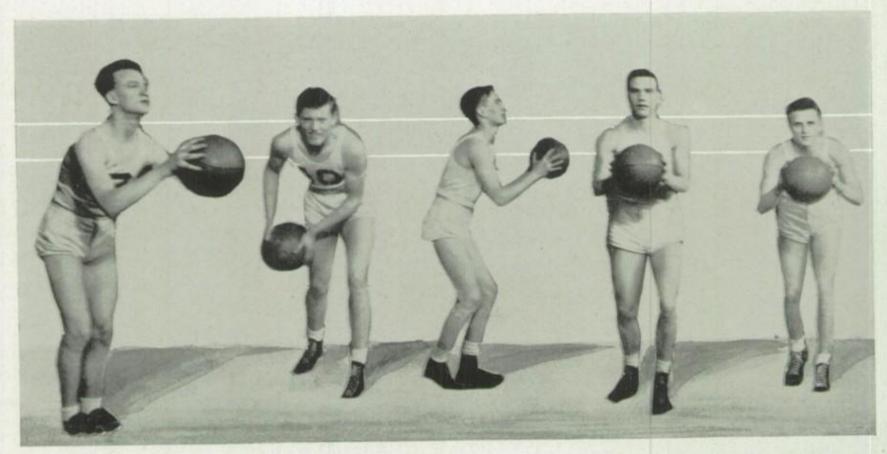

The Midgets set the pace throughout their third game to defeat Fairmont's Sharp-shooters at Fairmont. This was the first defeat for the Sharpshooters, who pulled up from behind a 20-11 count at the end of the third quarter to make the final score 25-23. Johnny Abbott was again Fargo's high-point man and Bob Viestenz played a fine defensive game.

After a rest from actual competition during the holidays, Coach Rice took his team to Detroit Lakes on January 8. The Midgets were hard-pressed but their short shots proved more effective than the long shots of the Lakers. The final score was 21-20. Captain Ossie Fredrickson had high-point honors for the Midgets with ten points.

One week later the wearers of the Purple and White easily conquered the Moorhead Spuds in the Fargo High gym, 27-21. The Midgets assumed the lead after one minute of play and were never headed or even seriously threatened. Ernie Anderson had top scoring honors with a total of eleven points.

Fargo High suffered her first defeat at Bismarck one week later. The Demons presented a deceptive, smoothly-passing team which scored 33 points to Fargo's 22. Bob Ulland was outstanding in the Fargo defense.

BASKETBALL, Continued

The next evening the Midgets crossed the river and lost a very exciting contest to the Braves at Mandan. The lead alternated between the teams until the last quarter, when Fargo lost her scoring punch. The game ended 36-28. Johnny Abbott with ten points led the Midget offense.

Returning to the home floor the next week-end, the Midgets dropped a 33 to 19 decision to Wahpeton. Although the Midgets were considerably handicapped by the absence of Anderson and Viestenz, the score remained fairly close until the fourth quarter. Fredrickson and Abbott were Fargo's high point men.

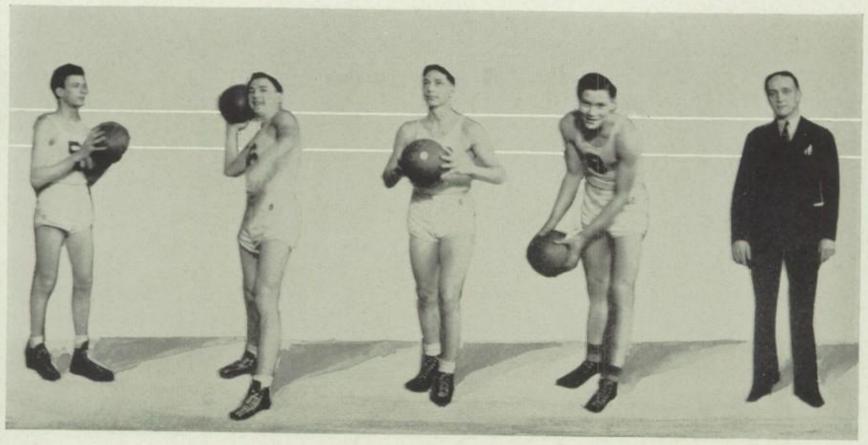

On February 5 the Midgets upset Mandan in the Fargo gym. The Braves held the edge 10-9 at the half. Don Johnston sank two field goals and two free throws to begin a Midget drive which netted thirteen points in the third quarter. Bob Ulland and Johnston held the scoring honors with six points each.

Fargo High played her last home game February 12. Captain Ossie Fredrickson led the Midgets in a 30 to 26 victory over the Redskins from Grand Forks. The first quarter was fairly even but in the next two quarters the Midgets stepped out ahead. In the fourth quarter the Redskins whittled down the lead which the Midget substitutes attempted to defend.

On February 18 the Midgets again defeated the Spuds in an exciting contest in the Moorhead State Teachers' College gym. The first half was quite even, ending 8-6 for Fargo. Led by Johnny Abbott the Midgets ran the score up to 16-6 before the Spuds could score in the second half. Don Craig and Ossie Fredrickson performed brilliantly in the Fargo defense which held the Moorhead team to four field goals. The final score was 20-16.

The next evening found the Midgets at Jamestown. Led by Fredrickson and Ulland, the Fargo team thoroughly trounced the Blue Jays for their fourth Class A victory. Fredrickson sank the first counter and the Midgets were never headed in the rest of the game. The Blue Jays were restricted to two points in the second half, the game ending 39-18.

Fargo High suffered a 31 to 18 defeat at Valley City the next week end. The Hi-Liners held the visiting team to three field goals but the Midgets sank twelve free throws. The game was much closer than the score would indicate as the score at the end of the third quarter was 17-15 for Valley City. Shifts in the line-up at the end of the third quarter netted the game for the Hi-Liners. Fargo's scoring was confined to Abbott, Ulland, and Fredrickson with a field goal and several free throws each.

At Grand Forks on March 6 Fargo High earned her right to participate in the state Class A Tournament at Bismarck. Fargo challenged Devils Lake and defeated the Satans 29 to 17. After a close first half which ended 10-8 for the Midgets, Johnny Abbott led his team to victory by sinking five field goals and a free throw in the second half. Abbott's total for the evening was sixteen points. Captain Ossie Fredrickson played an excellent floor game and scored six points.

Fargo High had the ill luck to draw the state champion Minot team as opponents in the first round of the State Class A Tournament at Bismarck. The favored Magicians had an up-hill battle all the way but beat the inspired Midgets 28-21. Ernie Anderson and Johnny Abbott scored in the first quarter, but field goals by Eide, Gran, and Monnes made the score 6-4 for Minot at the end of the period. At the half the Midgets trailed 15-7, but they scored nine points and held the Magicians to three points in the third quarter. When the fourth quarter started the Magicians led, 18-16. Don Johnston tossed in a field goal and a free throw to give Fargo a 19-18 advantage, but Huntley and Alger each scored twice to cinch a victory for Minot. The strong Minot aggregation defeated Valley City in the semi-finals and Bismarck in the finals to retain the state championship. The Midgets lost a close game to Grand Forks in the consolation round, 28-22.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

The Reserve Basketball team is coached by Mr. J. P. Schroeder, who attempts to develop the outstanding sophomore and junior players into first squad material. The reserve squad is picked by elimination in the home-room tournament at the beginning of the season. They provide much scrimmage for the first team besides playing an interscholastic schedule.

This year the boys won three out of eleven games, losing several of the games by lucky shots in the last minute or two as indicated by the scores. The Little Midgets fell before the team from Bohnsack Consolidated High School in their first game, 31-13. A fourth quarter spurt nearly won their second game for the Reserves at Wahpeton but the gun caught the score at Wahpeton Indians 30, Midget Reserves 24. As a preliminary to the first Midget-Spud game, the Reserves of both teams clashed in the Fargo gym. Victory was snatched from the hands of the Fargo boys by a Spud field-goal in the last minute which sent the game over-time. The Moorhead Reserves won, 24-22. The Midget Reserves won their first game at Casselton, 23-15. By a one point margin the Reserves lost again to the Wahpeton Indians at Fargo, 21-20. The Reserves, still on home grounds, conquered Casselton again the next week, 29-16. Luck again frowned on the Reserves when they crossed the river for the second game with the Moorhead Reserves. After a close, hard-fought game the Moorhead team emerged on top 22-21. The Reserves lost their next game to Hawley 34-22. The Reserve team played much better the next week in defeating Sheldon, 26-14. The last game ended Fargo 26, Tower City 35.

HOCKEY

Fargo High's hockey team, under the able instruction of Mr. P. E. Mickelson, completed another successful season as state champions, winning eleven games while losing none. This year the Midgets scored fifty-nine points to their opponents' nine. The exceptional five-year record of the team is forty-one wins, three losses, and three ties.

The Midgets opened their hockey season January 16 with a 6-0 victory over Cathedral High School at Crookston. In their second game the Fargo High team smothered the visiting Wahpeton team 8-1. Opposing Cathedral High again on the Island Park rink, the Midgets scored a 7-0 win. On January 20 the Fargo puckmen repeated their earlier 8-1 victory over Wahpeton, this time on the Wahpeton rink. The Midgets were again victorious in their fifth contest, downing the Valley City Hi-Liners 3 to 1 on the Island Park rink. The next week the Midgets journeyed to Jamestown to take the Blue Jays in their stride at 4-2. One week later Fargo High again downed the Blue Jays 4 to 2 at Island Park. The Purple and White pucksters chalked up their eighth consecutive victory February 17 at Island Park when the Grand Forks Red Skins emerged on the short end of a 5-0 score. The next afternoon the Midgets ran out to Valley City and defeated the Hi-Liners 2-0. Without assistance from the first team, the able Midget substitutes triumphed over the visiting Wahpeton Indian School team, 8-0. On the last day of February Fargo High clinched her hold on the state championship by beating the Red Skins at Grand Forks 4-2 in her eleventh straight win.

High Midget scorers were Howard Berget, ten goals and six assists; Bill Larson, ten goals, four assists; Gordon Wong, three goals, twelve assists; Lloyd Towne, seven goals, one assist; Jack Taylor, five goals, three assists; and Pat Shirley and Tom Morrow, four goals, three assists each. Bob Haas had an excellent record as goalie, stopping ninety-three per cent of eighty-eight shots.

Wong, Berget, and Shirley gained positions on an all-state team.

TRACK, 1936

Early in April Mr. Bridgeford and Mr. Lower began to build the 1936 state championship track team around the two lettermen, Morrell Sexton and Eugene Fuller. The results of several weeks' practice were shown in the Novice Meet which was held as soon as the weather permitted. Alex Horwitz won this meet with 15½ points. Raoul Murphy followed closely with 13 points, and Ed Olson and James Bruso tied for third and fourth places.

Led by Sexton and Fuller, the Midgets took the May Festival meet the first week in May. Sexton had top scoring honors with firsts in both the high and low hurdles and a tie for third and fourth in the broad jump. Fuller was a half point behind with first in the 440 and second in both the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. James Bruso placed in the pole vault; Carl Miller, high jump; Don Blair, high hurdles; and Terry Carey, 440.

Wind and dust did not prevent the Midgets from winning the Capital City meet at Bismarck. Sexton won firsts in the broad jump, high and low hurdles for the individual scoring honors. Fuller won the 440, took second in the 220-yard dash, and fourth in the broad jump. Louis Paulson tied for first in the high jump, and Bob Ulland placed in the low and high hurdles. Alex Horwitz won third in the 100-yard dash to complete the total of 37<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> points.

Fargo High earned the state championship for the fifth successive time at Grand Forks with six firsts. Sexton, completing a brilliant high school athletic career, won both hurdle events to set up records for the lowered barriers and took the broad jump for high point honors. The reliable Fuller again won the 440 and Raoul Murphy won the pole vault. Bob Ulland took third in the 120-yard high hurdles and 200-yard high hurdles.

The Midget relay team of Fuller, Sexton, Horwitz, and Alan Johnston won the half-mile relay at each of these meets.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

The intramural football program began with the opening of school in the fall. The boys who turned out for this sport were divided into three teams; one coached by Mr. Maxey, whose captain was Dave Hull; another was coached by Mr. Kastet and captained by Clinton Cull; and the third coached by Mr. Anderson was captained by Ed Montiel. Each team played six games. Mr. Maxey's team annexed the championship with three wins and one tie.

Members of the winning team were Captain Dave Hull, Ralph Martin, John Fitch, Paul Pancratz, Kenneth Jones, John Putnam, Andy Labiak, Jim Whipple, Ed Smith, Tom Challoner, and Jack Staples.

After the season, the coaches and captains met to pick an all-star team. Melvin Wisehart of Kastet's team was unanimously chosen captain of the all-stars. Other members of the team were Ed Montiel, Dave Hull, John Fitch, Clinton Cull, and Jack Conlon in the back field, and Ralph Martin, Lynn Robinson, Don Tiffany, Bob Murphy, Ed Smith, Robert Hoff, David Conlon, Russell Richtman in the line.

DeWitt Swanson, Matthew Plath and Ed Smith were elevated to the reserve squad at the end of the intramural season.

INTRAMURAL HOCKEY

When seventy-eight boys responded to the call for intramural hockey, Mr. P. E. Mickelson hoped to find material to replace seven vacancies on the first team left by graduates. The following eight boys were picked as captains: Myrhe Paulson, Irvin Fischer, Bill Larson, Gordon Wong, Carlyle Norman, Jack Taylor, Eddie O'Brien, and Howard Berget. Each team played seven games in each of two rounds. The Paulson team of Andy Labiak, Pat Shirley, Lynn VanVorst, Clyde Landblom, David Etkin, and John Putnam won the schedule of two rounds, losing three games and winning eleven. Irvin Fischer's pucksters took second place with nine wins, four losses, and one tie. A new league was formed at the end of the second round. The thirty-two participants were divided into four teams captained by Pat Shirley, Bill Larson, Tom Morrow, and Gordon Wong. Every team played five games. The team of Gordon Wong won five games and the championship of the second league.

GOLF

In the fall an intramural golf tournament was conducted at the Municipal Golf Course by Mr. L. C. Sorlien. Bob (Jobby) Johnson eliminated Walter Maddock in the final round to win the all-school championship.

HORSESHOE

Early in the fall ninety-four boys took part in a horseshoe singles contest conducted by Mr. Whitlock. In the final round of the bracket pairings George Maher beat Warren Oschwald and earned the horseshoe championship of the school.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Mr. Whitlock organized the intramural basketball tournament at the beginning of the second semester. The 114 boys who signed up were divided into six teams on the north side and eight teams on the south side. The north side captains were Stan Taylor, Harold Gordon, Hale Abbott, Don Olson, Robert Olson, and Alan Johnston. The captains of the south side were Bob Johnson, Eddie O'Brien, Eddie Burns, Dick Trubey, Homer McDougall, Loran Ladwig, Bob Murphy, and Bud Heiberg. Each south side team played seven games and each north side team played ten games. After a very interesting schedule Stan Taylor's group was easily the champion of the north side and Bob Johnson's team proved superior on the south side. Neither team had lost a game but Johnson's boys defeated Taylor's in two hard-fought games to win the intramural city championship.

The winning team was composed of Captain Johnson, Norris Olson, Jim Lavelle, Norman Kamins, Tom McMahon, James Greenshields, and Louis Paulson.

The captains picked an all-star team from each side of town as is customary at the end of the season. This year's south side all-stars were Captain James Frankosky, Norris Olson, Norman Kamins, Dick Trubey, Norman Nelson, Roy McCarty, Eugene Aas and Homer McDougall. The north side eam was captained by Stan Taylor. The members of the team were the north side captains and John Carlson and Theo Hanson. The north side team won the thrilling game between the all-stars with a score of 46 to 30.

Nineteen homerooms were entered in the homeroom tourney which replaced the interclass tournament at the beginning of the season.

BATTLE BALL

The battleball tournament was held just before the opening of the basketball season in the fall. The eighty boys who appeared for the sport were divided into six teams, each team playing six games. The team of Lynn Van Vorst beat that of Tom Fillmore to win the championship. The victorious team was composed of Captain Van Vorst, Chuck Putney, Hale Abbott, Harold Christianson, Owen Otteson, Bernard Starkenberg, Charles Pixley, Darrow Beaton, Russell Burfening, Axel Ultieg, Arthur Streed, Kermit Chapman, and Tom Cossette.

TENNIS

Eight tennists were picked as the best of the seventy-two contestants in the intramural tennis tournament, which was won by Bill Cathcart. The eight players selected as the Fargo High tennis squad were Charles Keefe, Bill Cathcart, Bob Mason, Ted Sirrs, Alan Johnston, Bill Larson, Abe Paper, and Bud Heiberg. Fifteen teams entered the doubles meet, an innovation this year. The winning pair were Ted Sirrs and Helmut Wilk.

PONIES AND MULES

Organized in the middle of January, the Pony and Mule squads played interesting schedules which extended into the first week of March. These two groups are composed entirely of sophomores, who gain much experience from the actual competition provided. The Mules were coached by Mr. Lower and the Ponies were coached by Mr. Maxey. Both teams practiced in the gym of the Emerson Smith grade school.

The two teams were members of the Inter-City High School Basketball League in which both squads made a fair showing. Each team played one game with the M.S.T.C. High School Reserves, N.D.A.C. Preps, and the Sacred Heart Academy Reserves. The Mules nosed out the Ponies 20-19 in the final game of the schedule.

Members of the Mule team were Bob Vogelsang, Randy Ambers, Harold Friese, Jack Novaria, Robert Myrha, Bill Narum, Robert Bruns, and Dick Hall. On the Pony squad were Russell Burfening, Ed Arneson, Jack Cronin, Irl Pickett, George Rulon, Keith Christensen, and Matthew Plath.

SWIMMING

The use of the swimming pool was restored to the students of Fargo High School in 1936. Each gym class enjoyed one period in the pool per week and all pupils were allowed recreational swimming for one hour after school every week. Jimmy Bruso won the sweepstakes championship in the intramural swimming tournament. Johnny Fitch took second and John Konen third. New records were established in the one-length breast stroke, 44.7 seconds by Dave Hull; in the one-length back stroke, 14.1 seconds by John Konen; and the four-lengths relay, 45.9 by a Senior A team of Fitch, Bruso, Charles Mattson, and Junior Fish. Standards were set up as records in new races by Johnny Fitch, 24.5 in the two-lengths crawl, 10.9 in the one-length free style, and 51 feet 7 inches in the standing plunge; and by John Konen, 2.57 minutes in the ten-lengths free style; and by the Senior A's in the eight-lengths relay with 1.47.4 minutes.

FREE THROW

Fargo High's annual free throw tournament was conducted in the middle of April by Mr. Whitlock. Eighty-nine boys threw fifty free throws each. At the end of the competition Bob Mason, Jobby Johnson, Clark Heggeness, and Lloyd Fercho were tied for the lead, each having made thirty-four shots. Fercho was declared the winner after making thirty-three out of fifty in an elimination contest.

PING PONG

One hundred and twenty-eight boys participated in the ping pong tournament which began just before the Christmas vacation and was completed early in February. Don Johnston battled his way to the championship, defeating Bob Johnson 2 to 0 in the finals.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEMONSTRATION

For a number of years the boys' and girls' physical education classes of the high school have presented an annual demonstration of their general class work during the year. Much skill is displayed by the students in the various feats connected with physical education.

The annual exhibit was presented this year in the Central High School Auditorium on Monday, March 15. Miss Irene Beyer and Mr. G. E. Whitlock, the girls' and boys' physical education instructors, directed the demonstration.

A group of boys from the second, third, and seventh period classes began the program with a callisthenics drill. The girls of the second and seventh period classes, dressed in gay costumes, presented the second number in the form of a Russian Cabin Dance.

The boys' elementary tumbling class followed. This act included forward and backward rolls, head stands, and simple flips. The fifth hour class comprised this group.

Many difficult types of gymnastics were demonstrated on the flying rings by a selected group of boys. Single and double cuts, dislocations, hand stands, and other tricks were skillfully executed.

A combined group of boys and girls from the sixth period classes danced two American country dances.

Girls of the first hour class presented a Norwegian Spring Dance in costume.

To add variety to the evening's performance, two boys did a juggling act. Following this was a thrilling exhibition of coordination of muscle and mind by a selected apparatus team. Rolls, hand stands, shoulder stands, kipp-ups, and handsprings were performed on the parallel bars. On the horizontal bar such difficult feats as the great swing, fly away, and death drop were demonstrated. Cuts, handsprings, and handstands were displayed on the horse.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEMONSTRATION, Continued

A beautiful solo dance, The Hungarian Rhapsody, was presented by Delin Rudd. Following this was a dance of a different nature. Girls, dressed in green and white, tapped to the tune, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling."

Boys in the advanced tumbling group did difficult stunts and tricks and formed pyramids.

In the last act the scene took place in an Indian village. The action showed the Indians celebrating the approaching marriage of the chief of one tribe (Delin Rudd) with the princess of another (Virginia Huglen), thus uniting the two friendly tribes. The Indian braves gave their dance of greeting, which was followed by the dance of the Indian Princess, in which she paid honor to the Sun. The squaws prayed to the Rain God that the grain would be abundant so that the tribes would have a full life. The Indian gods then danced away all evil things. Bravery and worthiness were expressed by the Indian Chief in his dance by killing the beast. After the kill he took his place in the center and gloated. Appreciating his worth, the tribes rejoiced. While the Indians were sitting around the camp-fire, a squaw (Elsie Heiberg) sang "Indian Love Call."

Music was furnished by the high school band under the direction of Mr. L. C. Sorlien. The scenery was made by the art department under the direction of Mr. R. L. Whedon. This year the auditorium was packed to capacity for the demonstration and many people were forced to stand because of inadequate accommodations.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC COMMISSION

Managers are chosen each year from the Girls' Athletic Club to supervise the various sports for the year. In addition to the officers of the club the following managers of the various sports comprise the Girls' Athletic Commission: Beatrice Feickert, soccer and hockey; Eunice Warner, basketball; Louise Crosby, ping pong; Mary Darrow, tennis; Gail Porter, track; June Probstfield, baseball; Virginia Taylor, swimming; Margaret Olson, deck tennis and badminton; Janet Ulness, cage ball; and Vera Wooldridge, volley ball.

In addition to supervising the sports, this commission, with the aid of Miss Beyer, the adviser, tries to create an interest in sports among the girls and promote good sports-manship by means of a point system.

To earn points a girl must take part in the various sports, either organized or unorganized. A total of one thousand points must be achieved to receive a letter. However, only five hundred points are necessary to become a member of G. A. C. To encourage those girls who have received their letters to continue taking an active part in sports, gold pins are given to the girls earning one thousand five hundred points.

Thus through the point system and through various other activities the Girls' Athletic Commission strives to reach its aim—"An activity to meet the needs of everyone, and everyone participating."

MAY FESTIVAL, 1936

This spring the May Festival brought the girls' sport program to a close. This is the highlight in girls' activities, as this is the only time they are able to compete with girls of other schools. The schools taking part in the contest were Jamestown, Valley City, Moorhead High, Comstock, Hawley, Moorhead State Teachers' College, and Fargo.

Dancing, baseball, tennis, and track formed the various fields of competition. Fargo captured second place, losing by only two points.

Girls who represent Fargo High are selected from the winners of the intramural contests held during the year. These girls must maintain the scholastic standard with an average of eighty and no mark below seventy-five. Each signs a pledge not to smoke during the term.

Those taking part in the dancing division were Julianne Reynolds, who did a solo dance, Rhapsody in Blue; and a group, Jeanne Hovden, Gene McCrystal, Julianne Reynolds, Jean Miller, and Janice Follet, who gave Grotesque. This was a very unusual dance of modern style. Hungarian Peasant Dance, a solo, was presented by Delin Rudd. A group of eighteen selected girls of the fourth hour physical education class performed a Finnish Harvest Dance.

Fargo made an excellent showing in track. Barbara Brua won first place in baseball targets; Virginia Taylor captured first place in the javelin throw contest. Second place was won in the discus throw by Alice Olson. Valley City won first, Hawley second, and Fargo third in the baseball distance throw. In the sixty-yard hurdles Fargo received second and third places, Nora Nelson and Alice Olson placing second and third, respectively. Members of the two hundred yard relay were Edith Helland, Beatrice Scott, Lyllah Schriver, and Eleanor Olson. Fargo placed second. Those entering the fifty-yard dash were Edith Helland, Shirley Peterson, and Eleanor Olson. Entering the seventy-five yard dash were Edith Helland, Beatrice Scott, and Lyllah Schriver.

Winning both the singles and doubles tournaments, Fargo captured all honors in tennis. Jean Betty Aamoth took first place in singles. Mary Jo Sheffield and Betty Wylie captured first place by winning the doubles tourney.

With the close score of 4-3, Fargo lost to Comstock in the baseball finals. Members of the regular team were Barbara Brua, Alice Olson, Jean Shiley, Verna Hagen, Edith Helland, Eleanor Olson, Virginia Taylor, Lyllah Schriver, Lenora Gronsdahl, and Gail Porter. Substitutes were Nora Nelson, Marjorie Raines, Mary Barrett, Alma Korsmo, Beatrice Scott, Elizabeth Rivkin, Helen Jackson, Helen Jones, and Harriet Lovelace.

Girls of Fargo High School enjoy this opportunity to take part in interscholastic sports and regard the May Festival as the happy culmination of the year's activities.

SOCCER AND FIELD HOCKEY

Intramural field hockey and soccer opened the girls' sports program in the fall of 1936. Fifty-five girls participated in these active outside games.

Because of the very short season, the soccer and field hockey tournaments were combined. Soccer games were played off first. When it got too cold for the girls to hold their hockey sticks, these same teams played soccer.

The team captains were Betty Carnine, Mary McReynolds, Eunice Warner, Lenora Gronsdahl, Louise Darrow, and Gladys Nelson.

In the regular intramural tournament, both Carnine's and Gronsdahl's teams were undefeated. Cold weather prevented these two teams from playing off the tie. Members of the two teams were Betty Carnine, captain; Doris Evanson, June Probstfield, Velma Berry, Beatrice Feickert, and Marion Holmgren; Lenora Gronsdahl, captain; Marjorie Beyer, Helen Polis, Eunice Katz, Fayne Yuster, Irene Wolfinger, Harriet Lovelace, and Margaret Olson.

Soccer and field hockey are two of the peppiest and hardest games in the girls' sports program. They are truly a contest in endurance.

TENNIS

Tennis is gaining popularity each year among the students of Fargo High. Probably the greatest incentive is the fact that Fargo won both the singles and doubles state championships last year.

Each fall an elimination tournament is held at Island Park. At the close of this contest it is determined which students are qualified to enter the May Festival in the spring. Both the champions and runners up of the singles and doubles school contest represented Fargo High at the May Festival.

In the finals Virginia Smith and Margaret Dunlap defeated Kathryn Bower and Bobbe Rusch. Cathryn Casselman won the final singles match from Marion Holmgren.

Sixty-two girls signed up for tennis. Thirty-four entered the singles, and twenty-eight turned out for the doubles tourney.

Tennis is one individual sport tournament that is played off very quick y because of the short season. All participants that do not complete their games within a reasonable length of time are disqualified, so the girls schedule their games promptly.

Basketball Champions

Tracksters

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Intramural basketball proved to be among the most popular of the girls' sports. Approximately one hundred girls signed up at the beginning of the season. Ten teams entered the elimination tournament which provided very keen competition.

Captains of the teams were Doris Law, Phyllis Travis, Betty Lou Long, Virginia Taylor, Vera Wooldridge, Marie Arneson, Gail Porter, Barbara Schmallen, Helen Polis, and June Campbell.

Those on the winning team included Barbara Schmallen, captain; Mary McCannel, Betty Stern, Ann Lontz, Jane Young, and Bobbe Rusch. Members of Virginia Taylor's team were Linae McKee, Harriet Lovelace, Virginia Smart, Jeannette Jolosky, and Lyllah Schriver.

SWIMMING

Having been closed since 1932, the Fargo High School swimming pool was reopened last fall. Each Friday swimming classes were held in connection with the regular physical education work.

Every Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30, recreational swimming was offered. At that time all those who did not have the advantage of using the pool during school hours could enjoy a good swim. From the fact that there was always an extremely large attendance it is obvious that swimming has taken an important place among the various sports of the school. Much enthusiasm has been shown for recreational swimming, especially during the summer months of the year. However, even in the winter the number of girls that used the pool was surprisingly large.

Swimming is one of the minor sports of Fargo High, but nevertheless it is one in which many participate. No contests were held this year, but some girls worked for their junior life saving awards.

Cage Ball Winners

DANCING

Twenty-four girls entered the dancing division of the May Festival held at the State College last spring. Two group and two solo dances were given.

Girls in Grotesque, a group dance, were Jeanne Hovden, Gene McCrystal, Julianne Reynolds, Jean Miller, and Janice Follett. This number was of a fantastic nature, the dancers being dressed in unusual, elaborately decorated costumes and wearing weird, brightly colored masks. As it was a dance of a modern style, all movements were fast and sinuous.

Rhapsody in Blue, given by Julianne Reynolds, and Hungarian Peasant Dance, by Delin Rudd, were the only two solo numbers entered in the contest. A selected group of eighteen girls from the fourth hour physical education class performed a Finnish Harvest Dance. They were dressed in brightly colored costumes suggestive of the land they represented.

CAGE BALL

Cage ball, the most recently introduced of the major sports, is rapidly becoming one of the most popular activities of the girls' sports program.

This year the teams chose to play the game in a method similar to volley ball. That is, they remain standing, the ball is served over a net, and is kept in the air with the hands.

The game may also be played without a net. In this method the girls are seated on the floor, and they keep the ball in the air by kicking it.

Approximately eighty girls came out for cage ball this year with Margaret Olson's team winning the championship. The following girls were on her team: Addeline Luther, Doris Evanson, June Campbell, Harriet Lovelace, Lenore Gronsdahl, Marie Arneson, Fayne Yuster, Kay Kennedy, Virginia Otteson, and Virginia Taylor.

Other teams were captained by Elda Brunzell, Virginia Finsand, Barbara Randich, Adeline Lere, and Pat Bjorklund.

Golf Champion

Badminton Enthusiasts

BADMINTON

Because more girls are now acquainted with this comparatively new sport, the number of participants in the badminton tournament was larger this year than in any previous year. The equipment and the rules are very similar to those of tennis; therefore many girls who are interested in playing tennis participate in badminton.

DECK TENNIS

Deck tennis, one of the oldest sports in Fargo High, proved very popular this year. There was an unusually large turn out for it and an exciting, smooth tournament was held. The winner was Harriet Lovelace, with Jean Johnson as runner up.

POINT SYSTEM

In addition to the organized athletics, girls may earn points in the following ways:

Unorganized athletics Points

I. Hiking—per mile. I

Skating, Tobogganing, Skiing, Tennis, Deck Tennis, Golf, Archery,
Volley Ball, Roller Skating out of doors, Bicycling—per hour. 3

Swimming—per hour. 5

2. Underweight girls gaining weight (per pound) 1

3. Girls having physical examination 10

TRACK, 1936

Track is not only popular in the opinion of the boys but lately it has also rated high with the girls.

Last spring about sixty girls signed up for this event. The matches were attended with regularity and with enthusiasm.

Girls signed up for discus and javelin throw, baseball distance throw, baseball target throw, fifty yard dash, seventy-five yard dash, sixty yard hurdles, and two hundred yard relays. Two intramural track meets were held which eliminated all girls except those who were to attend the May Festival. Here Fargo High placed in many events, probably because this meet provides the only chance to compete with girls of other schools.

Those who took part and placed in the track meet at the May Festival were as follows: discus throw, Alice Olson, second place; javelin throw, Virginia Taylor, first place; 50-yard dash, Edith Helland, Shirley Peterson, Nora Nelson, and Eleanor Olson, no rating; 75 yard dash, Edith Helland, Beatrice Scott, and Lyllah Schriver, no rating; 60 yard hurdles, Nora Nelson, second place, and Alice Olson, third place; 200 yard relay, Edith Helland, Beatrice Scott, Lyllah Schriver, and Eleanor Olson together placed second; baseball target, Barbara Brua, Doris Dillon, and Mary Barrett, together placed first; baseball distance, Doris Dillon, Barbara Brua, and Helen Jackson, together placed third.

BASEBALL, 1936

This season the baseball tournament was played off quickly under the direction of Eunice Warner, manager. Approximately sixty-five girls signed up for the sport.

Under the leadership of their captains, the following teams participated: Lyllah Schriver, Edith Helland, Helen Jones, Leah Stewart, and Jean Shiley.

Lyllah Schriver's team won the school championship. Members of her team consisted of Eunice Warner, Marjorie Beyer, Ruth Friedman, Vivian Minette, Gladys Nelson, Eleanor Olson, Shirley Peterson, Mary Jo Sheffield, and Jean Johnson.

A selected group of ten regular players and nine substitutes represented Fargo High School in the May Festival held at the State College last spring. The girls won second place. Winning from Moorhead High and Valley City High, Fargo played against Comstock in the finals. Comstock won with a score of 4.3, to retain first place in the contest.

PING PONG

Ping-pong is a minor sport which continues to grow in popularity. For those who are interested, a tournament is held each spring.

Forty-one girls competed in the singles, and nine couples entered the doubles matches this year.

LETTER WINNERS

For the fifth consecutive year the girls of Fargo High School have used the point system to record their participation in all forms of sports, organized and unorganized. This system gives each girl an opportunity to receive credit for sports she takes part in, whether as an individual or as a member of a team.

To earn points in unorganized sports, a girl may participate in hiking for which she receives one point per mile; in the winter sports of skating, tobogganing, and skiing, receiving three points for each hour's participation; in the summer sports of golf, tennis, and bicycling, also receiving three points for each hour.

In swimming she receives five points for each hour, and may earn extra points by perfecting various strokes and dives. By passing the junior and senior life saving tests, she earns seventy-five and one hundred points respectively.

Participants in each of the organized sports—such as basketball, hockey, soccer, track, and volley ball—earn seventy-five points by becoming a member of a team. Substitutes get two points for each game they play in. By entering and placing in the A. C. May Festival, girls may also win extra points. To receive an additional one hundred points each one may keep a complete health chart for a month.

When a girl has earned one thousand points she is given a large purple "F". This is an award the girls feel is well worth striving for. In order to give special recognition to those who, after having earned a letter, wish to continue active participation in sports, gold pins are awarded for five hundred additional points.

By the number of letters and pins awarded this year, it is evident that the girls' sports program has been very successful with many girls participating. The following have earned awards:

Two little sophies, trying to make a pun. Along came a senior; then there was one.

One little sophie, couldn't have any fun. He became a junior; then there were none.

The hotter the day, the busier the fountain.

The bigger the class, the shorter the recitations.

The larger the enrollment, the noisier the halls.

The dumber the sophomores, the smarter the seniors.

The longer the assembly, the happier the students.

The nearer the weekend, the poorer the work.

8—The poor unsuspecting sophomores looked scared, for they were being swamped by seniors. It was this: "The seats with 'R' on them are reserved for sophomores", and "The elevator isn't working today—you'll have to use the stairs", and "For 25 cents you can rent a seat in the auditorium."

After school one little newcomer opened her eyes wide and said, "I saw a lot of boys running out of the building about four o'clock. They were dressed up like football players. I wonder what they were doing—."

They'll learn!

II—Three bells were rung today, and a few moments later two frightened sophomore girls pushed their way out of the auditorium. It was a boys' assembly. It appears that the "little innocents" aren't learning!

The Sistocratic League did a fine job of acquainting Big and Little Sisters at a tea after school.

18—Three cheers for the band! They now know two pieces. The football schedule was discussed by Mr. Bridgeford, and the matter of season athletic tickets was presented.

Our football team beat East Grand Forks in a game there, 7-0.

19—The Little German Band performed uptown to draw attention to the season athletic ticket sale—they even rated an article in the Fargo Forum.

22—Nine year old Julius Levine played three piano numbers in assembly.

25—There were a lot of cheer leaders being tried out. One girl said innocently, "They don't work together very well, do they?" At any rate, we won our game with Fergus Falls, 19-0. The first Cynosure Bi-Weekly was issued today too.

2-Minot won the football game there, 13-0. Oh, well-

6-A former student, G-Man Ladd, spoke to us.

7—Those who had tickets were let out at 2:25 to hear Kryl's symphony orchestra at the Moorhead Armory.

8—A girl fainted in Miss Johnson's study hall this morning. Gallant Johnny Fitch and Swede Johnson carried her out. 'Stoo bad they didn't live in the days of Sir Walter Raleigh.

9—In the girls' assembly the G.A.C. held a mock coronation. The football squad beat Bismarck there, 20-0.

13-A National Convention of Sistocratic League was held during a girls' assembly.

15—Three cheerleaders (Nelson, Morrissey, and Lavelle) have been chosen from the original candidates and they directed the yells today in assembly. In the afternoon the Little German Band played uptown, while the school band played there in the evening, and then arrived late at the game. But in spite of all Fargo High's enthusiasm, Valley City's football team won, 24-0.

20—Featherstone, the magician, performed.

26—We had a pep assembly today, and the captain of the Moorhead football team gave a little speech. At eight o'clock there was a large crowd cheering both teams. Johnny Jones had a bandage on his nose, but it was soon rubbed off, and he was taken out of the game. Moorhead won by a score of 21-7.

30—The art students said that today Mr. Whedon stated, "There are two people in this class chewing gum—will they please put it in the wastebasket!" Six persons got up.

10—Both the Pep Club and Sportsmanship Club took part in the assembly, the occasion for it being the eve of our last football game. We play tomorrow at two o'clock. Beatrice Feickert announced for the Pep Club skit. It was called the "Football Follies of 1936." As the name suggests, it was a sort of musical comedy. George Hull was the Sportsmanship announcer, and the society put on a mock football game. Then Mr. Tighe and Mr. Bridgeford gave talks.

11—We had an Armistice Day program today. The American Legion speaker this year was Mr. Hoverson. Doris Halvorson gave a vocal solo and the band played.

In the afternoon we were excused from school, and almost everybody went to see the game with Grand Forks. We won, 15-0, in spite of a snow-covered field.

13—Inspector Lester, who works under J. Edgar Hoover, spoke to us today in a very interesting manner. We also had four skits from "The Whole Town's Talking", which is to be given tomorrow evening.

17—Three sound movies were presented to us in assembly, and it was more interesting than we had expected. Perhaps the best was the one called "Turn-About Man." It concerned a man who was courteous while driving, but very much the opposite while in society. This condition turned out to be a dream.

20—The assembly today lasted an hour and a half, and came right after roll call in the morning. The program was a play to be given tonight at P.T.A. Each department in school gave one act. All this is because it is National Education Week.

28—About midnight there was a huge fire in the Emporium store. It's surprising how many high school students were mingling in the excited crowd!

1-Foxwell, the magician, appeared in assembly.

3—One girl kept a cat in her desk all during sixth period study hall (or so she said—and it sounded like the truth). The poor cat!

4-We had a pep assembly, and skits from the play "Make-Believe."

The first basketball game of the season was played tonight against the Grafton team. We won, 37-22.

5-"Make-Believe" was presented in the evening.

8—The Kents entertained us by putting on a skit in assembly. Dickie Sehrt practically stole the show as a rhythmic paper-picker in Island Park. The others were good too.

9—Rev. Ralph Shrader spoke to us in assembly about the youth of China, and even dressed students in Chinese clothes.

11-Our basketball squad beat Fergus Falls 50-25 tonight.

14—The 10-B's and 12-B's took intelligence tests while the rest of the student body had a music appreciation program.

15-Naturalist Howard Cleaves lectured today.

18—The public speaking classes and A Cappella choir worked together to present a Christmas program.

In the basketball game at Fairmont tonight we won, 25-23.

21—Christmas vacation started today, and a great sigh of relief went up among both teachers and students. Most persons are taking advantage of the extra time to get caught up on much needed sleep. However, if other vacations are any indication, everyone will come back more tired than before.

Our basketball team beat Detroit Lakes tonight, 21-20.

- 12—The Harlequin play, "Two Crooks and a Lady", which was presented today in assembly was announced by George Black. It was very entertaining.
- 13—Sistocratic League officers and chairmen were installed. Jean Johnson is the new president.
- 15—The first half of the period today was used for a pep assembly, and then Mr. Slutz talked about the ability of getting along with people.

Tonight we beat the Spuds here 27-21. Hurray!

- 18-Mr. Fredericks announced the senior class play, "The Thirteenth Chair", of which he is the director. This was followed by some skits from it.
  - 22—We lost our basketball game with Bismarck, 33-22.
  - 23—Bad luck seems to be trailing our team! Mandan beat us, 36-28.
- 25—Everyone is turning over a new leaf, or trying to, because the second semester begins today. After the exams last week, students are going around with hollow cheeks and haunted eyes. Some are careful about sitting down. Can it be that their parents didn't approve of the report cards they brought home?
- 27—Artist Robert Wood entertained students of Fargo High at a pay assembly today. He was quite some talker—the words just tumbled out of his mouth!

1-Major B. Walker talked on phases of the International Peace Problem.

2—A queer coincidence—we had another speaker today, Major Booth. His subject was "Public Opinion as a Safeguard for Peace."

5—The Pep Club gave a musical skit—a mock basketball game. Then a man from the University of California, Fielding, gave a stunt. He jumped rope on roller skates.

Our basketball squad played Mandan here, and got revenge for a beating there in January. We won by a score of 22-17.

11—Only the sophomores and juniors were present at a Boy Scout assembly today. Lyle Leighton took charge. There was an interesting travelogue given.

12—The History Club presented a Lincoln program, which was followed by Earl Holmer, who gave a breezy announcement about the all-society party tomorrow night.

At 3:15 there was a short pep assembly. Eddie O'Brien took charge and interviewed different persons in the audience, namely, Swede Johnson, Joan O'Leary, Don Craig, and Mr. Bridgeford.

We beat Grand Forks there, 30-26.

16—Each committee of Sistocratic League demonstrated its duties in a girls' assembly today.

18—After students had almost given up hope, three bells were rung, and a pep assembly was held at 3:20.

Fargo High's basketball team beat Moorhead there, 24-16, to the accompaniment of cheers and band music. It was lucky for the Bi-Weekly. Just ask them why!

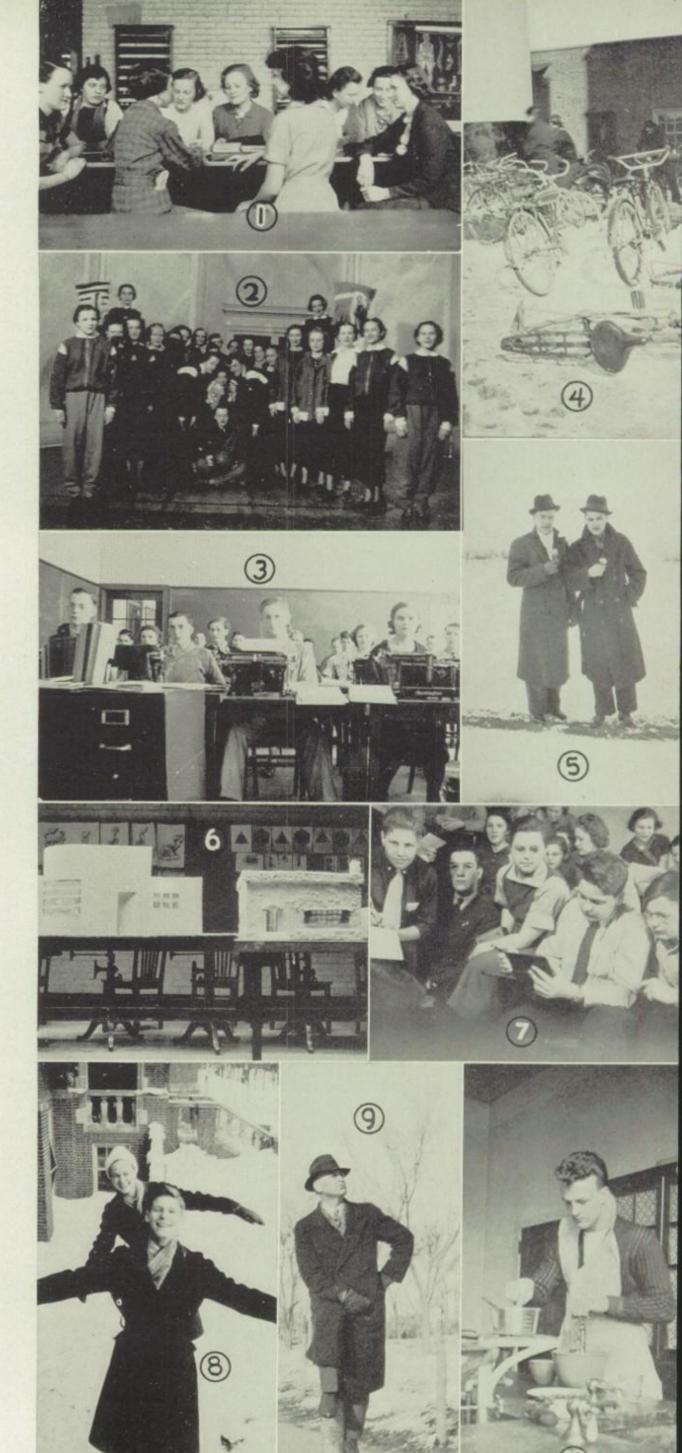

26-Valley City won a basketball game there, 31-18.

6—The basketball team won the challenge game with Devils Lake, 29-17.

11—First there was a skit from "New Brooms", and then Dr. Robert W. Gammon gave a speech, encouraging us to "be our age."

12—Dolores Frick introduced this year's annual staff in assembly, and after that Mr. Tighe talked. We got our report cards—hmmm!

In the evening the play "New Brooms" was given.

15—Mr. Leland Watkins, Jr., of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke in assembly urging us to sell "sacks of cement" for the proposed city swimming pool. There were also a couple of skits from the gym exhibition. In the evening, the auditorium was filled to capacity while the gym classes "did their stuff."

18—The one act play "Masquerade" was announced by Luella Larson, and after that the Harlequins presented it for the students.

Tournament listened to our game with Minot over the radio. The score was close until the last quarter, when the Magicians managed to win. Our team lost the consolation game too—tough luck!

22-Easter vacation for a whole week! Three cheers and then some!

29—Well, we came back to school again, and started the morning out right by attending a pay assembly. The Davies Light Opera Company was very entertaining.

  - 3-Johnny Abbott was announced as the captain of next year's basketball squad.
- 5—Rev. Brewster introduced Dr. David Malaiperuman, who hails from that faraway country, India, and who told us about life over there.
- 6—The Kent-Phosterian basketball game was played after school tonight with enthusiastic cheering from the club members. The Phosterians won by a score of 27-24.
- 8—C. E. Jones provided entertainment and information for students in an assembly about gyroscopes.
  - 14—Another interesting pay assembly was presented today. It was about liquid air.
  - 16—A talk on peace and war was delivered by Mr. John Alexander.
- 17—Music, commercial, and declamation district contests were held at Fargo High in the morning and afternoon. Our home talent ran off with many of the first places and several seconds. Those that won go to Grand Forks in May.
- 20—The Fargo-Moorhead talent assembly provided interesting entertainment for those that paid their nickel at the door. It was held for the purpose of earning money to buy a bass viol for the orchestra. Paul Nelson was the announcer in place of Eddie O'Brien, who had lost his voice and couldn't find it.
  - 24—"The Show Off" was presented tonight.
  - 29 Scenes from the lives of great musicians made up the Orpheus Club program.
- 30—"Sardines", a one act comedy, was very well presented by the Phosterians and greatly enjoyed by all the rest of us.

7—Once more it is Costume Day, and almost everybody entered into the fun. Fargo High's halls were crowded with little children, negroes, ma and pa just in from the farm, and old-fashioned ladies with full skirts. Chewing gum and candy were in particular evidence as some pupils gaily waved sticks of long black licorice, while others had suckers.

But, needless to say, everyone had a grand time, despite suspenders that were too big, huge shoes that insisted on falling off, and mustaches that smeared dangerously. They all went home, packed their "silly" clothes in a big box, and looked forward to a similar frolic next year.

14—Many students today threw their school books into a corner, packed their clothes, and started to Grand Forks for high school week. This annual event has become very popular, not only as a change from school, but also as a chance for Fargo High students to meet those from other places in the state who have similar interests in music, dramatics, and sports.

22—The Junior-Senior banquet and dance entertained many students tonight, with fun for all.

25—The most representative girl and boy were undoubtedly the happiest students in school today after Mr. Tighe read their names in assembly.

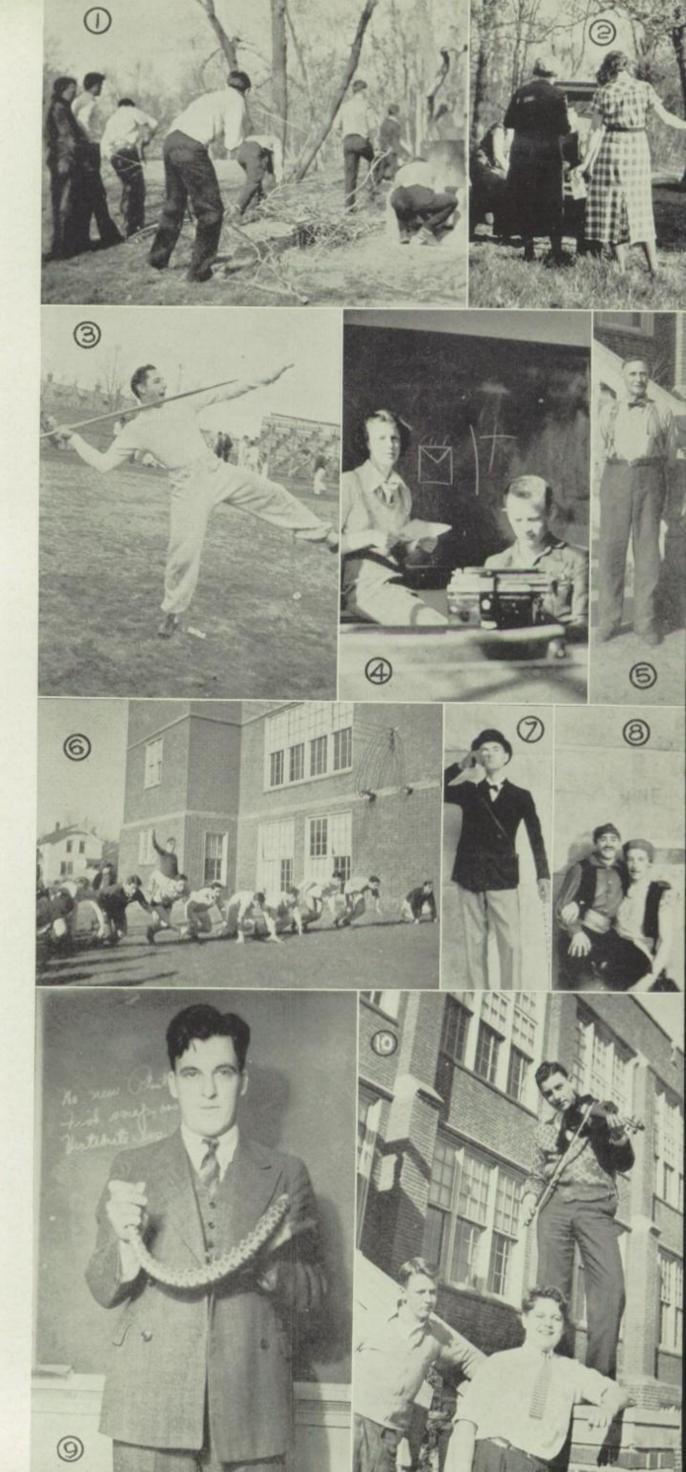

3—Again the seniors had the center of the stage as fond mothers, fathers, relatives, and friends watched them receive their diplomas, signifying the end of their high school careers. Their faces were serious as they listened to the speaker, and tears and laughter were mingled after it was all over, and they were being congratulated by the spectators.

Another milestone is passed!

THE FOLDING BLUES

Hmm—it's seventh period and I've nothing to do. Guess I'll help fold Cynosure Bi-Weeklies in the cafeteria. . . . . Here I am, and there are the papers. What a mad rush everyone is making toward them! Oof, I barely escaped with ten papers and my life.

My goodness, my arm is tired.

"What?—I've got printer's ink all over my hands and face? Well, don't rub it in!" Ha, ha.

There, the papers are all folded, and they are being taken to the different rooms. At last I can rest. I only hope my arm won't have to be amputated.

I think I'll stay in study hall in the future!

Here's Johnny Abbott's latest poetic effort, dedicated to Bob Mason:

He sat with her upon a bench And she said, "How time flies!" He rubbed his toe into the dirt And gazed into her—pocketbook!

She shyly looked up at the moon. 'Twas more than he could stand. He moved a little closer then And gently held her—umbrella!

Her lips moved softly as she sang. His beating heart now raced. He took his arm from where it was And slid it round her—dog!

Her eyes were bright, her face was near—A lovely little miss!
He turned, and with a gesture sweet,
He softly stole a—dollar!

THE END OF SUMMER

A whisper of wind down the chimney,
A threatening cloud in the sky,
The moaning of trees in the orchard,
A shutter swings out with a clattering sound,
A flurry of leaves as they fall to the ground.
Summer is passing by.

THE PIRATES' LAIR

The pirate chief reclined with easy grace Upon a velvet hassock; and the place-A dark and gloomy cavern by the shore-Swarmed with his crew, a hundred men or more; Their hard, scarred visages, the torches' flare Illumed; piled in great profusion there Was most amazing booty, wealth untold-Millions and millions—chest on chest of gold; Jewels in heaps, rare laces, rich brocades; Silks, satin; plunder of wild, daring raids On luckless merchant ships. And while with glee They gloated o'er this loot of land and sea, There at the entrance of their secret cave A youth of twelve, indomitably brave, Appeared and shouted, in stentorian tones: "You are my prisoners! I'm Willy Jones, The Boy Detective!" Rash, impulsive youth! A boy against a hundred men, forsooth, They would have finished him at one fell stroke! But he was saved—thank goodness. He awoke.

"MIKE'S SONG" OR "HOCKEY! HOCKEY!"

(Dedicated to English VI, with apologies to Tennyson)

Skate, skate, skate,
On the cold white ice, O team!
And I would that my tongue could utter
My thoughts as I blow off steam.

O, well for the basketball boys,

Those that shout as they run and play!
O, well for the football lads,

O, well for the football lads,

That go chasing the ball if it stray!

And the lanky tracksters run

To their haven far down the line.

But O, for the clap of a million hands;

And the sound of some cheers would be fine!

Skate, skate, skate,
On the cold white ice, O team!
But the thought of a few fans to watch
Will never stop being my dream!

Jane Cosgriff handed in this poem that she wrote at a recent dance. She dedicates it to all boys.

Please don't allow your heart to fail— Don't let your courage fade. For if you get a lemon, Then make the lemon aid!

APPRECIATION

Having completed our work on the 1937 Cynosure Annual, we, the staff, should like to take this opportunity to express our great appreciation to Mr. Tighe for his never failing advice and generous assistance; to Miss Schropp and Mr. Bricker for their aid; to Miss Ramstad, for the thousand and one little favors that she has done for us; to Mr. Nerhus, Patty Follett, and George Hull for helping us with our pictures; to Mr. Imai, our engraver, who by his many helpful suggestions has made our task easier; to the McCracken Studio and the Pierce Printing Company for their grand co-operation. Without the friendly assistance of all of these, the 1937 Cynosure Annual would have been impossible.
